Kissinger land in Tel Aviv

TEL AVIV (UPI) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger arrived tonight with high hopes that his shuttle diplomacy would achieve a new Israeli-Egyptian agreement and a warning that failure could mean a new Middle East war.

Kissinger arrived under the heaviest security seen in years at Ben-Gurion airport in face of threatened demonstrations by right-wing youths who fear Israel will give away too much for too little.

Stows away

NEW SEABURY, Mass. (UPI) — Flight Chief Haddon Wood slowed away aboard the balloon "Odyssey" when it took off for a trans-Atlantic flight to Europe Wednesday night.

Skipper Robert Sparks, making his second try at the flight, waited 50 days for the right weather before leaving. Wood grabbed a trailing rope but wasn't pulled aboard until the balloon was 3,000 feet over Nantucket Sound.

US eases some Cuba sanctions

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The State Department will announce today the partial elimination of U.S. economic sanctions against Cuba which have been in effect for more than 10 years, officials sources said.

Henceforth, overseas subsidiaries of U.S. manufacturers will be permitted to sell to Cuba, the sources said. But the ban on exports directed to Cuba from plants within the United States will continue.

Ulster shootings claim 2 victims

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (UPI) — A Roman Catholic man and a Protestant man were shot and killed today in sectarian murders heightening the wave of violence that began two weeks ago.

The Catholic was slain while walking near the dockland area by gunmen who felt towards a Protestant area in an automobile.

British jobless ranks swell

LONDON (UPI) — New unemployment figures published today showed more British jobless than at any time since World War II, underscoring Prime Minister Harold Wilson's plea for the nation to knuckle down to beat the economic crisis.

The figures listed 1,250,341 unemployed in August, an increase of 162,464 from July. The jobless represent 5.4 per cent of the nation's work force.

Pentagon hit

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., Wednesday called the Pentagon "a kind of patsy" for agreeing to a U.S. Steel refusal to sign contracts on crucial steel parts for the Trident submarine.

However, other agencies denied the first request to waive cost control rules on $18.4 million in contracts.

Proxmire said defensive industries could "blackmail the federal government" into relaxing cost accounting rules.

Slayton plans more space flights

HOUSTON (UPI) — Astronaut Donald K. "Deke" Slayton plans to fly in space again regardless of the outcome of exploratory surgery for a lesion on his left lung.

Slayton, 51, who overcame a heart problem to finally reach space after a 15-year wait, said Wednesday the lesion will only keep him away from work a few weeks.

Whisky heir weds, off to Canada

YORKTOWN HEIGHTS, N.Y. (UPI) — Toasted with champagne by his son, who was rescued from kidnappers just three days earlier, Edgar Bronfman, 46, wed his 25-year-old "Georgie girl" while a harpist softly played the "Love Story" theme in the background.

The newlyweds boarded a helicopter and then a family jet for a Canadian honeymoon.

Scotts deny seeking 'deal'

NEW YORK (UPI) — Jack and Micki Scott have denied allegations attributed to Mrs. Randolph Hearst that they sought a deal with Patricia Hearst's parents to bring about the return of the missing newspaper heiress.

Published reports said Mrs. Hearst told a grand jury Tuesday that co-conspirators sought by the Scotts included payments of their legal fees, Mrs. Hearst's resigning as a regent of the University of California and her husband, Randolph, appearing with the couple at a news conference to denounce the FBI.

Consumer prices rise in July

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The prices consumers paid for goods and services climbed 1.2 per cent in July — an annual rate of 14.4 per cent — but a top government economist said today the country was not returning to "double-digit" inflation.

One of the sharpest jumps came in the category of food prices, which increased 1.7 per cent during July, according to the Labor Department statistics.

The United States suffered through inflation running near or above 10 per cent for most of 1973 and 1974.

But Sidney Jones, the Treasury Department's chief economist, said the sharp rise in the July CPI was "not representative of what we have seen in inflation or what we are likely to see."

Jones said a just-released comprehensive study that includes the forecasts of 21 respected economic models, showed an average annual 6 per cent inflation rate estimated for the July-September quarter, rising to 7.5 per cent in the final three months of this year.

The increase in the overall CPI was the sharpest monthly jump since last September and follows an 0.8 per cent increase in June.

During the first five months of this year, consumer prices had risen an average 0.5 per cent a month.

"The July figures would seem to contradict this but you have to hang your hat on the fundamentals," Jones said, citing the extensive slack and low demand in an economy that is just breaking free of recession.

"Inflation remains a very serious problem...but the outlook in the near term is not for double-digit inflation," he said.

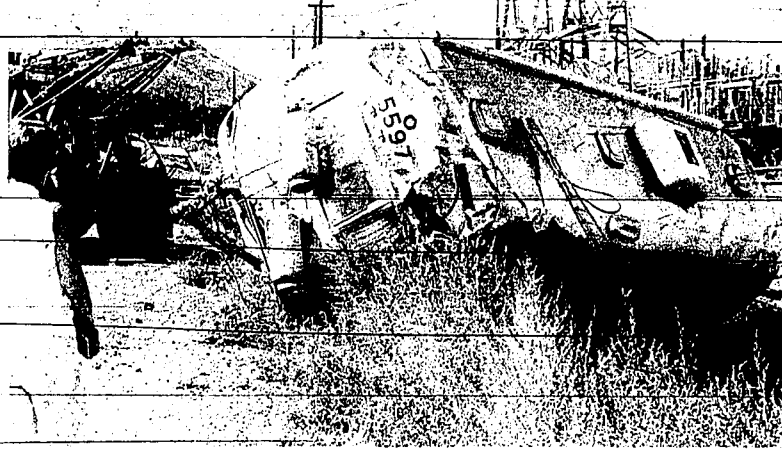

Agriculture Department officials said today the controversial sale of wheat of Russia had "no effect on the July Consumer Price Index." They said food price statistics for the July CPI were gathered early in the month before the sales began.

With the impact of higher prices for grain, steel, aluminum and many raw materials still to be felt at the retail level, hopes for a prolonged period of price stability appear to be lessening.

The index has now risen nearly 10 per cent since July, 1974 and stands at 162.3. This means that an assortment of retail goods and services that cost $10 in the 1967 base year had risen in price to $16.23 last month.

In a separate report, the department said "real spendable earnings" — what an average blue collar worker has left to spend each week, after payroll deductions for taxes and Social Security — fell 0.5 per cent in July and is now down 0.3 per cent in the past 12 months.

However, the 1975 tax cut, which has resulted in lower tax withholding rate, has largely offset the recent drop in takehome pay.

Class opens at Hansen

TWIN FALLS — Classes began today at Hansen, the first school district to open in Magic Valley.

Kimberly will follow on Friday. Most other schools in the area will open Monday.

High school students at Kimberly registered Wednesday and today. At Hansen students were at school briefly to register and meet their teachers on Wednesday so it could legally be counted as the first day of school, according to the superintendent's office.

Minidoka County schools will not open until Sept. 2, the day after Labor Day. Blaine schools, originally scheduled for the Aug. 25 opening, have been delayed until Aug. 27 because of additions to grade schools in both Ketchum and Bellevue are not complete.

In Twin Falls the new Sawtooth Elementary School will replace the old Washington School. Some children will be attending different schools because of a change in boundaries for the five grade schools.

Open house is scheduled Sunday from 1 to 5 p.m. at the new Sawtooth School. Teachers and guides will be present to show the new facility in interested persons.

In both Buhl and Twin Falls all high school students will sign for their classes starting Monday, even though formal classes begin that day for the elementary and junior high students.

At Buhl all four high school grades will register Monday, with seniors scheduled from 8 to 9:30 a.m.; Juniors, 9:30 to 11 a.m.; sophomores, 11 a.m. to 12:30 p.m., and freshmen, 1:30 to 3 p.m.

Twin Falls High School students will have a few more days of freedom, with seniors registering Monday, Juniors Tuesday and sophomores Wednesday. High school classes begin Aug. 28 but all other grades in the district begin Monday.

Drevlow dies

LEWISTON, Idaho (UPI) — Former Lt. Gov. William E. Drevlow of Craigmont, the "grand old man" of Idaho's Democratic party, died at St. Joseph's Hospital in Lewiston Wednesday. He was 83.

News of Drevlow's passing shocked Idahoans in every walk of life, who had been captured by his wit and personality.

Gov. Cecil D. Andrus said, "Idaho will always be a better place in which to live because Bill Drevlow lived and served in Idaho."

"It is a day of sorrow that one of Idaho's finest gentlemen has passed away," Andrus said.

Drevlow served eight years as lieutenant governor.

Living Center refused license; keeps operating

By DAVID HORSMAN
Times-News writer

TWIN FALLS — The Idaho Department of Health and Welfare (HAW) Wednesday denied a license application for the Magic Valley Living Center but at the same time agreed to "look the other way" while the facility operates illegally.

However, the county prosecutor said he will prosecute if the home operates without a license.

Dr. John Ashley, a health officer for HAW, said his agency "will not push for prosecution" to shut down the shelter home southwest of Twin Falls.

As long as J. W. Ettinger, acting manager of the home, "is showing good evidence that he's working (no correct safety hazards) we're not going to be pushing for prosecution," Ashley said today.

Jones flays plan draft

By GEORGE WILEY
Times-News writer

TWIN FALLS — Twin Falls Mayor Winston Jones last night attacked the rough draft of a city-county comprehensive land-use plan as a "waste of everybody's time" if adopted in its present form.

"If you adopt this as a comprehensive plan, you're wasting everybody's time," Jones told members of the Twin Falls City-County Joint Planning Council.

He called for a "tight, indexed" comprehensive plan, agreed upon by both city and county elected officials, which would "have about the same effect as ordinances."

Loss of statements of goal and policies such as the plan presently contains, Jones maintained, "wouldn't be much use to elected officials."

"Policies and goals are very difficult to act on when making decisions," he said.

Planner David Ritchey, who drew up the plan draft, took issue with Jones, arguing that the right draft "has more muscle than a lot of elected officials will commit themselves to."

If the draft is adopted as a comprehensive plan, Ritchey added, "it will have more muscle than any other comprehensive plan in Idaho."

Both Jones' and Ritchey's comments came at a regular meeting of the joint planning council.

Today Ritchey said, "The mayor from the very beginning, I think, has just not understood quite what we were supposed to be doing — and I don't think he was necessarily alone in that either."

Ritchey argued that a comprehensive plan should be designed as a background document to any land use and zoning ordinances, rather than taking the form of ordinances themselves.

"A comprehensive plan is not an ordinance," he said, "but the new state law now requires that any ordinances be firmly rooted in the comprehensive plan's goals and objectives."

However, Twin Falls Pros. Atty. William Hoffield told the Times-News today he will be forced to prosecute if the home is operating without a license.

"It's a bucket of worms," Hoffield said, "but the law is on the books."

"I have no choice — that's my job," he added.

Hoffield said HAW has not contacted him concerning prosecution if the shelter home continues to operate.

The home's manager today said "the state is continuing to play its little game with us."

At a license hearing in Boise Tuesday, state health officials decided to deny the license application but also agreed not to contact the prosecutor or the attorney general and say, "Let's get this guy," Ettinger said.

The shelter home has been operating without a license since May of 1974, when HAW revoked the license of then operator Duff Brown. Ettinger has taken over the operation as acting manager.

Ettinger said he will continue to manage the facility as long as prosecution is not threatened.

"That's my position. I'm not going to run the threat of prosecution. I'll get too much pressure, I'm just going to kick off."

"If Hoffield tells me to shut down, I'll shut down," he added.

Ettinger also said HAW agreed to give to "serious consideration" to granting a temporary license for the shelter home in 30 days if an effort is made to correct safety deficiencies.

The home currently shelters 17 physically or mentally handicapped adults.

The agency also has agreed to allow operators of the shelter home to install fire alarm system, themselves, according to Ettinger. Formerly HAW had required that the operators sign a contract with a private firm for installation of the system.

The do-it-yourself allowance will cut the cost of the system in half, Ettinger said.

HAW also "tentatively" agreed that solid-core doors at the home should be installed at a rate of about three per month, he said.

US sees 9% gain in food

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Agriculture Department predicted today retail food prices will increase an average of 9 per cent this year and Agriculture Secretary Earl Buttz added a message: "Let's don't panic."

The forecast was only slightly higher than earlier forecasts of an 8 per cent boost over 1974 food prices. Agriculture Department experts insisted again that grain sales to Russia will have little effect on consumer grocery bills this year.

Buttz told reporters most of this year's food price increases have already occurred and average retail food prices may edge up only 1.5 per cent in waning 1975.

The Labor Department said today food prices went up 1.7 per cent in July, the biggest rise in 11 months. But the USDA quickly countered that the grain sales had nothing to do with the increase.

"The message I get out of this (forecast) is: let's don't panic," said Buttz, promising consumers ample food supplies at "reasonable prices."

The forecast of a 9 per cent hike for the full year replaced an earlier prediction that prices would be up 8 to 8 per cent in contrast to 14.5 per cent food inflation in the past two years.

Economist J. Dawson Ahalt also told the news conference that grain sales to Russia — which have already reached nearly 10 million tons and are expected to go higher — "will not seriously affect retail food prices."

He said most of the domestic effects of the Russian grain sales would be felt next year, when grain exports work through gradually into retail prices of meat and other livestock products.

Ford seeking cooling time

By United Press International
President Ford has urged AFL-CIO President George Meany and all sides in the growing dispute over shipping American grain to the Soviet Union to "cool it a bit."

Ford met with officials of three wheat growing and exporting groups in Vail, Colo., Wednesday and they agreed to wait until the next national grain forecast Sept. 11 to take any action on the maritime union's refusal to load grain bound for Russia.

"After that, it will be another ballgame," said Kenneth Kendrick, a Stafford, Tex., wheat grower and president of Great Plains Wheat. He did not elaborate.

"First telephone Monday Wednesday and urged him to use restraint, White House Press Secretary Ron Nessen said. Nessen said Ford may meet with labor leaders in Washington next week.

Meany Monday supported the shipping boycott and said it would continue until the administration came to him and explained the effect of the Soviet grain purchases on consumers.

The administration and farmers say a forecast record grain harvest this year would offset any major supermarket price hikes on bread and other items despite nearly 10 million tons of grain already sold to the Soviet Union this year.

Recession end hinted

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A 1.6 per cent rise in the Gross National Product for the first time since 1973 is further evidence that the recession ended last spring, the Commerce Department said today.

"Looking not just at GNP data, but all recent data, it is apparent that the bottom of the recession was reached in April or May," Assistant Commerce Secretary James L. Pate said.

The second quarter increase in GNP — the first in 18 months — corresponded with the traditional economic theory that a rise in the GNP after several declines marks an end to a recession.

Commerce also said inflation dropped to 5 per cent in the second quarter to mark its lowest level since the end of 1974, when it was 4.1 per cent.

The growth in the April-June quarter in the GNP was the highest since a 14.4 per cent rise in the first quarter of 1971, Commerce said.

The increase followed a 1.14 per cent decline in first quarter of the year. With inflation included the GNP was estimated at $1.44 trillion up 5.7 per cent from the previous quarter.

Tentative terms set in SF strike

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A tentative contract was announced today in the strike by police and firemen but Mayor Joseph Alioto said the "situation will remain the same" until the pact receives final approval.

Alioto, who reached the agreement with representatives of the striking unions during talks that went into the early morning hours, said the proposal must be approved by both the strikers and the city Board of Supervisors. The supervisors Wednesday proclaimed a state of emergency and urged the calling in of highway patrolmen.

Details of the tentative agreement were not disclosed.

The mayor was asked if the striking policemen and firemen, who joined the four-day old walkout Wednesday night, might return to work pending the ratification.

"The situation will remain the same as it is at the present time," he said. He added that the board "ought to approve the settlement but after years in this business I don't place any bets."

Negotiators agreed not to release the terms until both sides met later today.

The supervisors had left the talks only hours before Alioto announced the agreement.

They asked Gov. Edmund G. Brown Jr. to provide 200 California Highway Patrolmen for duty in San Francisco.

Brown's office in Sacramento said it would not act until Alioto signed the request, but the mayor said outside help was not yet needed. There are about 1,000 state highway patrolmen in the San Francisco area.

The supervisors said the walkout created "extreme peril to the safety of persons and property."

Both fire and police spokesmen said Wednesday night's calls were "relatively routine."

"We had some robberies but things were mostly quiet," a police spokesman said.

The fire department said it had two second alarm fires during the night that were handled by skeleton crews.

A third crisis was averted Wednesday when bus and trolley drivers, scheduled to strike tonight, accepted a 6.9 per cent pay increase.

Alioto, who hurried home from negotiations early Wednesday when a small bomb exploded on his doorstep, insisted San Francisco is a "safe" city.

LONDON, Aug. 21 — King George received a conciliatory petition adopted by the Continental Congress on July 8 but declined to give an audience to the two Americans who brought it. Instead, he was set to issue a strong proclamation for suppressing rebellion and sedition in the colonies.

Burn victim flown to Texas

TWIN FALLS — Wesley Surgeon, 45, Twin Falls, was flown by army air ambulance to Brooks Army Medical Center, San Antonio, Tex., Wednesday night for treatment of third degree burns.

Surgeon was burned Wednesday morning after he apparently spilled cigarette lighter fluid on his clothing in his home at the Alley Motel. The man, handicapped from a stroke several years ago, was burned about the upper body and upper legs when discovered by the motel manager who notified an ambulance and police.

Magic Valley Memorial Hospital officials said Surgeon was burned over about 45 per cent of his body and most of the burns were third degree. He is a retired military officer.

A team of three specialists was flown by the army to Twin Falls to work with the victim and accompanied him by Mountain Home Air Force Base helicopter to Mountain Home where he was picked up by the Texas air ambulance. Hospital officials here said he remained in critical condition when taken to the military burn center in Texas.

No profiteering in food industry, FTC declares

WASHINGTON (UPI) — There is no evidence that four major food industries — milk, meat, bread, and cereals — are engaged in profiteering during the past three years despite skyrocketing consumer prices, a Federal Trade Commission study said today.

Prices went up primarily because costs jumped, the study said.

The report cautioned, however, that its look at the bread business did not include the nation's largest baker — ITT Continental — or several large wholesalers and "it is possible these baking operations could have experienced more sizeable profit increases."

"In none of the four industry samples... has the after-tax return on equity been palpably excessive in the last 11 quarters by the standard of other longterm industry patterns or the average performance of all manufacturing industries," the report said.

In conclusion, for none of the four processing industries is there clear evidence of profit levels or trends which suggest abusive profiteering during a period of unusual economic turbulence.

The period studied was from late 1972 until early this year — a time when food prices rose about 37 per cent compared to a jump of about 22 per cent for all prices in general.

Name of the industries studied was able to keep high profits going during the period and profits have not been uniformly higher since the end of price controls, the report said.

"Changes in retail prices for each of the four food product groups are explained primarily by input cost increases rather than by profit changes," the study said. "In all four industries, profits comprise a sufficiently small proportion of sales that an increase in profits could not explain much of the price increase."

The study said profits in the meat packing industry do not coincide with the recent period of high prices on other items.

"Meat prices in April, 1975, were 35 per cent higher than when price controls were imposed in August, 1971, while meatpackers' profits — have persistently been less than 2 per cent of sales," it said.

"Since the price freezes were lifted, meatpackers, and large meatpackers in particular, have enjoyed several quarters of relatively high profits."

"However, large meatpackers' profits fell to an 11-quarter low of 4.6 per cent in the first quarter of 1975, and middle-sized companies have suffered losses in two of the six postfreeze quarters."

Tire firm burglarized

TWIN FALLS — Burglars removed about $300 in tools and equipment from the Big O Tire & Air, an Addison Avenue West some time Wednesday night.

Officials of the company told Twin Falls police someone broke into the building and removed an air gun, wrenches, other tools and a chrome wheel rim.

A truck owned by G. W. Jensen Construction Co. was also burglarized Wednesday night. Company officials told police a hydraulic jack, side mirrors and even the windshield wipers were taken from the vehicle parked at Third Street and Sixth Avenue West. Loss was estimated at $242.

Beef, poultry plentiful

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Consumers will find supplies of beef, chicken, turkey and eggs adequate in September but pork stocks will be tight, the Agriculture Department says.

The forecast came in a monthly Food Marketing Alert report drafted by marketing experts primarily for "volume buyers," such as hotels and institutions, but also supplied to the news media for the guidance of individual consumers.

Compared with a year ago, spokesmen said consumers will find 5 per cent more beef in stores, but noted that all of the increase will be in lower-grade, grass-fed beef. They said broiler chicken supplies will be about 8 per cent above a year earlier.

Pork production, however, is still showing the depressing effect of a small 1974 corn crop and consumer supplies in September are expected to be about 4 per cent below a year ago, experts said.

For other major foods, officials said:

- Supplies of rice, dry beans, wheat, corn and peas will be "plentiful" in September.

Production of milk and other dairy products will be "adequate," although output has been running slightly below last year's level.

Supplies of frozen vegetables and canned green beans will be "plentiful," but stocks of other canned vegetables are rated only "adequate."

Fresh potato supplies are considered "adequate" although the summer crop is down 17 per cent from last year. Supplies should increase after the fall harvest begins.

Free day care service proposed

By BILL LAGANUS
Times-News writer

BOISE — Free day-care services for "children of abusive or potentially abusive parents" would be provided by the state under the Idaho Department of Health and Welfare's proposed social services plan.

The plan has been developed in conjunction with Title XX, a new federal law combining different titles of the Social Security Act. Title XX gives states more choice than before in using federal funds for social services, according to Dana Kehr, chief of social services for HAW.

Mrs. Kehr said, however, that the state's social services program would stay essentially the same under the current proposed plan. The only new program would be provision of day care for potentially abused or neglected children, she said.

Now, she said, the state provides day-care centers only to eligible lower income families. Under the proposal, regardless of their income,

"parents who just couldn't stand it any more" could bring their child in to the center for "respite care," she said.

The state also would provide counseling services to the parents. The impact hopefully would be to have the "strain taken off the parents for a little while" and improve family relations, she said.

According to the plan the state would pay for this type of day care for up to three months.

Besides this program, actual services HAW provides would not change under the plan. The federal government will provide $250,000 more under Title XX than it has provided but it also will require the state to check recipients' eligibility for free services more than twice as often as is done now, Mrs. Kehr said.

Anyone wishing for a copy of the summary may write the Division of Welfare, Statehouse, Boise, or call the department's toll free number, 800-632-2004.

Tot class set

VALLEY SCHOOLS — Kindergarten for children in the Valley School District will begin at 8:40 a.m. Monday at the Eden Elementary School.

According to Bryce Sorensen, school principal, parents of kindergarten-age children who have not already registered should do so at the Eden School at noon on the 25th, he said.

Lunch will be served at 11 a.m. for the children at a price of 40 cents.

Two sessions of kindergarten will be conducted this year, with the morning session running from 8:40 to 11 a.m. and the afternoon session from 12:15 until the buses take the children home in the afternoon.

Offer accepted

BURLEY — The Burley City Council this week agreed to accept rededication of a street in North Burley and a downtown alley.

The offer of dedication was by Jeffrey Tankin Co., which purchased property in North Burley. City Attorney William Parsons said the company wanted to rededicate West Third North Street, which earlier was vacated.

Mayor Chuck Shaddock said the dirt road is still there although it had been barricaded.

Parsons suggested the acceptance predicated on installation of curb, gutters and pavement.

Councilmen agreed and voted to accept the rededication upon approval by the city's engineer.

The council instructed Parsons to draw up an ordinance vacating an alley off Main Street alongside the First Security Bank.

Council, mayor should get raise

Twin Falls City councilmen and the mayor should get their pay raise.

The councilmen are now paid $150 a month. The mayor gets $200.

An ordinance introduced this week would raise councilman pay to $300 and mayor pay to $500.

The city officials certainly are worth that much. Even though the positions are part-time, the time spent tends to stretch more than is realized by the general public.

For instance, a typical councilman attends two long evening council meetings each month and four or five prolonged midday business meetings. In addition, councilmen are on anywhere from one to three additional advisory boards as well as other community boards.

Moreover, a number of special meetings are called for negotiations with county or state officials over specific problems.

And each councilman is on what amounts to 24-hour-a-day call when constituents have a gripe or a request or want information.

What has been said about the councilmen goes doubly for the mayor, who has a number of additional business and ceremonial duties ranging from property negotiations to ribbon cuttings.

Not only do the councilmen and mayor work hard, but the result of their work has been good.

Twin Falls City has to be considered one of the best-administered units of government in Magic Valley. While it is not without its problems and occasional lack of vision, its record has been as good as any.

The councilmen and mayor probably are worth more than they are paid. In fact, pay has little to do with their performance.

Most consider their jobs a form of public service rather than a good financial deal at the taxpayer's expense. At most, their pay is a token of public appreciation or support rather than real remuneration.

The immediate question is whether the token public payments should be raised, instead of whether higher pay will attract better people.

Better pay won't get better officials, but better public support might.

The pay is only one way of expressing support. We shouldn't skimp there.

Small-town victory

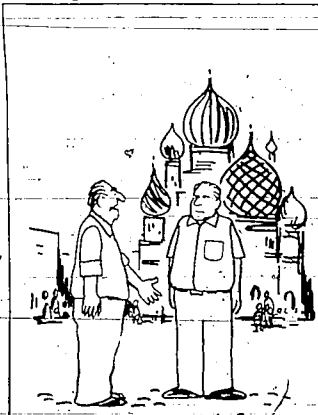

Christian Science Monitor

Petaluma, California, has become a temporary symbol of small-city superiority over a threat of urban sprawl. This city of 30,000 won an appeals court decision backing the community's right to limit its own growth to 500 new housing units a year.

Petaluma's victory has implications ranging far beyond its own borders. The court decision may encourage other suburban communities to set similar limits on their own building pace—taking care, of course, to use a reasonable standard of growth. It is still a question whether the Petaluma decision will be tested in the Supreme Court. The construction industry may feel that it has enough at stake to seek further consideration of the issues at a judicial level where national interests predominate.

Of course, the central question is where control of land use should reside in an age when nearly everything affects just about everything else. This year Congress was beginning to get serious about a federal land-use law that would help finance state programs in this field. Whatever the merits of the Petaluma case, it points up the growing need for thorough debate of the growth problems facing all communities, large and small, and the federal land-use legislative proposal provides an excellent focal point.

"That was some deal we made with the Americans, eh? We gave them all our space secrets and what do we get — wheat!"

JAMES KILPATRICK

Sevareid utters a mouthful about TV content

WASHINGTON — Eric Sevareid, the veteran CBS commentator, turned up the other evening at the Sheraton-Park Hotel, where he received an award from the International Platform Association and made a little gem of a speech. He said some things that need to be said both in defense of TV and in criticism of TV. It was solid stuff.

The occasion also saw tribute paid to Lowell Thomas, who at 83, is still the active dean of broadcast journalism. Thomas got into radio news in 1930. Sevareid in 1939. They've been around a long time.

In those pre-war days, Sevareid remarked, radio benefited with such men as Ed Murrow, Elmer Davis, and Raymond Gram Swing; and it suffered from such "shooters and gossipers" as Father Coughlin and Walter Winchell. In time, the fire-alarm boys vanished from the scene.

"Those who think broadcast journalism had today do not remember yesterday. I believe it steadily improves and I believe the same is true of the printed press. And it will improve still more if the networks, as they wish to, can find a way to break out of the strait-jacket of the half-hour format."

Broadcasting, Sevareid went on to say, does not please "academic intellectuals of sociological bent." Nothing attractive to the generality of people ever has. Over the centuries, such intellectuals have complained of movable type, the typewriter, silent films, talking films, and finally of television, all of which have been seen as enemies of literature and the truly fine arts.

Nonsense, said Sevareid. Television has not destroyed the book-publishing industry. TV has not inhibited, but rather stimulated human conversation. Neither has it undermined good English. "Until radio came along, there were tens of millions of Americans in shums, in barracks, in remote mountain valleys, in dusty prairie villages, on isolated farms, who had never heard proper English in their lives."

So much for the good side. The shortcomings and dangers of broadcasting, in Sevareid's view, lie in different areas. On the entertainment side, these include "the mindless prevalence of human violence, the paucity of original drama, and the short-changing of the children, though serious efforts are now going on to change this."

On the news side, said Sevareid, "Our true internal enemy is not bias, but haste — and the compression of the material required." He remarked one other danger of increasing concern: the increasing personalization of the news.

"By its nature broadcasting is the most personal form of journalism ever. The press communicates through cold print, not through voices and faces. Yet the news in broadcasting does not have to be acted. It must be popularized, in the sense of being simplified so that all may understand but it does not have, to the vulgarized show-business aspects of news broadcasting, will always be there, but the pressure for these aspects to dominate are becoming too strong."

"American journalists today — and this includes many of the printed press as well — have been forced and lured out of their normal and proper role in our society. They are becoming, not just the chroniclers in the aisle but actors in the play. Journalists furiously write about other journalists, and an unhealthy self-consciousness is infecting the whole ranks. We are important; but we are not that important."

Let me add an amen to all that. I am a newspaperman, first, last, and always. I travel in TV on a passport, and I seldom enter a studio without looking around for an exit visa. But even on the far-out fringes of this alien land, I have begun to understand the awesome, flattening, disturbing power of recognition that television can convey.

Cronkite, Sevareid, Chancellor, Brinkley, Reardon, Smith — these are among the most familiar names in our land. They are celebrities. In cities large and small, it is the same. The stars of local TV are stars in local galaxies. The "who" in broadcasting outstrips the "what" of the news. Out of personalized journalism, God save us, comes the personality. It is a profoundly depressing thought.

A little modesty, Sevareid concluded, would well become those who are thus thrust into public consciousness, for as Winston Churchill once remarked in another context, they have much to be modest about.

Lovlost and gold reserve mystery

© Los Angeles Times

(Nothing seems to have changed in the last 20 years as proved by this column when Mr. Buchwald wrote when he was living in Europe.)

Many people are still not too clear about what exactly is happening with the gold reserves in the United States.

It appears from what the President has said, and what the secretary of the treasury has tried to do, that the situation is serious.

Nothing could dramatize the plight better than what has happened in Lovlost by the Sea, the tiny European country that has been a bulwark against communism and a friend of the United States since the early days of 1946.

As everyone knows, Lovlost was on the side of the Germans in World War II and was therefore entitled to immediate financial aid from the United States once the hostilities had ceased. Since 1946 Americans have poured in $150 million until today she has one of the strongest economies in Western Europe. Just before the Marshall Plan went into effect, Lovlost's currency, which is known as the "bardot," was one of the weakest in the world and it took 500 bardots to make a dollar. Now it takes 500 dollars to equal one bardot.

It is this strengthening of the bardot that has caused a drain on the U.S. gold reserves.

To make matters worse, Lovlost is a vital link in the chain of Western European defenses, and it has the only carrier pigeon station in NATO.

While the bodies of the pigeon can be handled by Lovlost, only the breaks may be touched by the Americans. It is for this reason that American troops, a private and a corporal, have been stationed in Lovlost.

When President Eisenhower put out his edict that Army dependents had to come home, it raised a bitter fuss in Lovlost. The corporal, who had a wife with him, said nothing as he was carrying on with a girl from Lovlost. But the private, who was unmarried, was furious because he was in love with the corporal's wife.

The private protested to the secretary of defense, pointing out that if the corporal's wife was sent home morale among the U.S. forces in Lovlost would go sour. But while the secretary was sympathetic, he said that no matter how noble the cause "no exceptions could be made."

The first step in America's dramatic effort to halt the flow of gold to Lovlost was made.

The next step was even more dramatic. The Army PX in Lovlost, one of the largest in

ART BUCHWALD

Europe with 500 civilian employees, was forbidden to sell Scotch, Canadian whisky or French champagne. Since the corporal drank beer and the private made his own from raisins, not too much of a saving was made there. But as Pentagon officials explained, if the corporal was promoted to sergeant he "might" start drinking Scotch, and it was better to lock the barn door before the horse was stolen.

The third step was by far the most dramatic. The President decided to send the assistant secretary of state for Lovlost affairs to plead with the Lovlost prime minister to pay for the costs of maintaining American troops in Lovlost.

None of the worst slaps to American prestige, the prime minister turned down the assistant secretary flat and said, "Thanks to American aid, the bardot is now the strongest currency in the world. If we helped share the military burden, the bardot would be weakened again and then we would have to ask for an increase in American dollar aid, something we don't want to do as you yourself say the dollar is in trouble."

The only thing that came out of the assistant secretary's visit is that everyone in Lovlost started to panic and exchange dollars for Spanish pesetas.

But as the assistant secretary pointed out when he got home, "Lovlost is now aware of our situation, and for that reason alone my trip was worthwhile."

The next step

Optimism on economy not shared

WASHINGTON — President Ford's basic optimism about the economy apparently isn't contagious among rank-and-file Americans.

Moreover, despite a year in the most spotlighted office in the world, the President remains burdened by an identity problem, to the puzzlement of veteran opinion samplers.

As Ford swings through the Middle Western farm belt, his approval rating in the opinion polls shows him below the 50 per cent mark, traced mainly to widespread concern about unemployment and an upward spiral in inflation. Although help abroad normally give a lift to a President's popularity, the Ford visit to West Germany, Poland, Romania, and Yugoslavia, and his role in the 35-nation summit conference in Helsinki, Finland, had no perceptible effect on his standing, according to pollster George Gallup.

The latest Gallup poll, taken during the latter stage of the Ford trip, showed a seven-point drop in the President's rating from a 52 per cent approval figure in late June.

"There are no miracles to be accomplished in these foreign trips anymore," pollster Louis Harris said in a telephone interview. In Harris' view, the President has not established himself as a distinct mover and shaker in the area of foreign affairs.

Harris shares the view of others inside the administration that any strides toward foreign policy goals are generally credited to Secretary of State Henry Kissinger, with Ford being pictured more as a ceremonial head than as active policy implementer.

PETER LISAGOR

However, in a canvass of other opinion experts, foreign policy plays a secondary role in domestic issues in the public perception of the President. The steady rise in gasoline prices and food staples accounts for the negative judgment, the experts maintain.

Elections analyst Richard M. Scammon said that most Americans are afraid food prices are going up, largely because of American grain sales to the Russians. Their attitudes are not so much anti-Ford, he said, as expression of doubts about where the economy is headed. The President has not persuaded the people he has solutions for what troubles them, Scammon said.

Harris and Scammon agreed that Ford has no strong political roots in the country because he has never been a traditional candidate. "In a curious way, people don't know him, politically," Harris said. "He looks like a nice guy, but fundamentally after his pardon of Nixon they apparently decided to judge him on what he does as President."

Harris noted that since the Mayaguez freighter incident, during which Ford's decisive dispatch of limited forces to recover the ship and crew from Cambodian communists gave him a sharp boost in the standings, the President has slipped steadily, until a fourth of the public has now virtually forgotten the Mayaguez incident.

"All things equal, he comes across as bland," Harris opined. "He's done nothing wrong but nothing right, either." Harris said the President's approach on energy policies earned him a plus in public favor, but beyond that, he has seemed to be "more style than substance."

The pollster added that the public expects "more than caretaker leadership" at this time. "The prevalent view is that he is sitting in the White House doing nothing," Harris said. The President's claim of openness in government has begun to be questioned, according to his latest findings, Harris said. He attributed this partly to the President's initial refusal to invite the Russian dissident author Alexander Solzhenitsyn to the White House and partly to an unease about the CIA investigations.

"The people don't want to see the CIA go down the drain," Harris said. "But many feel that the Rockefeller report was an attempt to cover up."

The central issue, the pollsters agreed, is the economy, deep-seated anxiety about unemployment and the cost of living. The issue persists, despite economic indicators that show a slow but promising upturn from the recession.

Military effort against embargo wouldn't work

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A "military strike to break an oil embargo would be a policy with scant chance of success, according to a Library of Congress study released today by Rep. Lee H. Hamilton, D-Ind.

As chairman of a special investigating subcommittee of the House International Relations Committee.

Hamilton had asked the Library of Congress to look into the options "designed to secure access to oil in the event of an air-tight oil embargo" by the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries.

He said the study concluded a military operation "would combine high costs and high risks, would be unlikely to succeed and would, in the event of failure, cause this country grave consequences."

Hamilton said, "The folly of such military operations is clearly evident."

Hamilton said he asked for the study because he was "disturbed by several articles and statements, some by high-ranking officials of the U.S. government, which speculated on such military operations in the event of a crippling oil embargo."

Business Week magazine had asked Secretary of State Henry Kissinger in an interview Jan. 2 about possible use of military force in connection with oil pricing problems or with an embargo. He was quoted as saying that would be a "dangerous course" and he considers that "it is one thing to use it in the case of a dispute over price. It's another where there is some actual strangulation."

The study, prepared by John Collins and Clyde Mark of the Library staff, said that to succeed, a military strike to break an embargo would depend on two factors: doing little damage to oil producing and processing equipment, and also on the absence of Russia from the fray.

"Since neither essential could be assured, military operations to rescue the United States, much less its key allies, from an airtight OPEC embargo would combine high costs with high risks wherever we focused our efforts," they wrote.

They said that even if non-military factors — economic, political, social, legal and moral — were "entirely favorable," a successful mission would have to meet five goals: "select required oil installations intact; secure them for weeks, months, or years; restore wrecked assets rapidly; operate all installations without owners' assistance; and guarantee overseas passage of supplies and petroleum products."

Glomar spy ship sails on mission

AVAILON, Calif. (UPI) — The mystery spy ship Glomar Explorer, somewhere off the coast of Catalina Island today on a secret mission, left behind unanswered questions about what a submarine-snatching ship would do during nine days of tests.

The 618-foot vessel, registered to billionaire Howard Hughes' Summa Corp. but owned by the federal government and used by the CIA, left Long Beach Wednesday for the 26-mile cruise to this island.

The ship was joined by the HMB-1, a submersible barge used to dredge up a sunken Russian submarine last year, for tests in Fourth of July Cove near the Catalina Islands.

Global officials refused to say, however, whether this was a government-related project.

Study said 'bust'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., gave his monthly "Golden Fleece" award today to a government study of airline stewardess measurements. The study cost $7,800, and Proxmire said "it seems like a bust to me."

The award went to the Federal Aviation Administration for a survey of 423 young women training to be American Airline stewardesses at an academy in Fort Worth, Tex.

"The study was done ostensibly for the design of safety equipment," Proxmire said, "but the 103-page report dealing with 79 measurements from head to foot seems like a bust to me."

Proxmire said the study showed weights varied from 94 to 145 pounds, height from 5-foot-1 to 6-foot-1, busts from 29 to 37½ inches, and waists from 21 to 28 inches.

"About all that can be said to aircraft designers is that stewardesses are young women with the body measurements of young women," he said.

Aggressive action considered aim of steadily growing Soviet navy

LONDON (UPI) — The Soviet Union has spent 50 per cent more than the United States on naval shipbuilding in the past 10 years and the still growing Russian fleet can only be intended for aggressive action, the authoritative Jane's Fighting Ships said Wednesday.

In a foreword to its 1975-76 edition, Jane's editor, Capt. John E. Moore, said, "There is no answer to the question which of the superpowers navies is 'Number one.'"

"But," he said, "the Soviet Union has spent 50 per cent more than the United States on naval shipbuilding in the last 10 years and is currently expending one-third more than the United States for this purpose."

"The ever growing Soviet navy has outrun the legitimate requirements of national defense and has no logical merchant defense role in time of war. Until the adherents of unilateral disarmament can persuade the Soviets that they should reduce their massive armaments to the level of necessity, the NATO nations must abide by the lesson of history — unnecessarily large forces are intended for aggressive action."

Jane's said the French navy is rapidly becoming the largest in Western Europe — it said the British navy, "once the world's mightiest, while 'by no means on its beam ends,' would be 'desperately stretched in the event of a crisis.'"

It said China now has 58 submarines — seven more than a year ago — and has the world's largest fleet of small, fast attack craft. But it said the Chinese navy is primarily a defensive one.

Jane's said by the end of this year the Red fleet may include a dozen huge, 8,000-ton "Delia" class nuclear powered submarines, each capable of launching 12 nuclear missiles 4,200 miles from the safety of the Barents Sea against any part of the United States and a large area of China.

Jane's listed the Soviet submarine fleet as 120 nuclear and 191 "conventional" powered craft, with another 19 nuclear and 77 "conventional" subs either under construction or in reserve.

Jane's said the U.S. submarine fleet totals 105 nuclear vessels, with another 28 building or in reserve, and only 12 "conventional" craft, with three more building or in reserve.

The United States, Jane's said, continues to maintain an overwhelming lead in aircraft carriers, with 14 in service and eight building or in reserve, compared with the Red fleet's three small flat-tops in service and one still building.

It said the Soviets have small leads in other surface vessels with 33 cruisers, 106 destroyers and 109 frigates compared with the United States' 27 cruisers, 105 destroyers and 65 frigates.

90¢ gas foreseen

Newhouse News Service WASHINGTON — The chairman of the House Energy and Power subcommittee predicts that gasoline will be selling for 90 cents a gallon by the end of the year if President Ford has his way and price controls on old oil are discarded at the end of this month.

The impact on the price of all other consumer products will be even worse, said Rep. John D. Dingell, D-Mich. Dingell is author of a bill passed by Congress to extend the controls for six months beyond the present expiration date of Aug. 31, but Ford has promised to veto the measure.

"Immediate decontrol will (initially) cost the U.S. consumer six cents a gallon for the fuel he burns and roughly twice that much again in food, clothing and other products he buys to sustain his family," Dingell said.

"This means that gasoline prices, now about 61 cents a gallon, will probably jump close to 75 cents, and it means you can anticipate with a fair degree of expectation that gasoline at the pump will be 90 cents or perhaps more by the year-end, through further increases of the oil companies and the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries (OPEC)," Dingell said.

Mideast questions asked of McClure

Editor, Times-News:

Mothers (and others) Against Involvement in the Mideast (M.A.I.M.) have asked Senator James McClure to give them a hearing on Friday, August 22, while he is in Twin Falls.

MAIM is a nationwide organization, created in Twin Falls, reacting to an attempt by 76 Senators to pressure President Ford into supporting Israel, on the eve of delicate peace talks with Egypt's President Sadat last June 15.

Because an impending bill to support Israel with arms and money is to be placed before the Senate, MAIM is petitioning that a rider be attached to this bill before it is presented to the Congress. This rider should specify that no Americans be sent to any country in the Mideast.

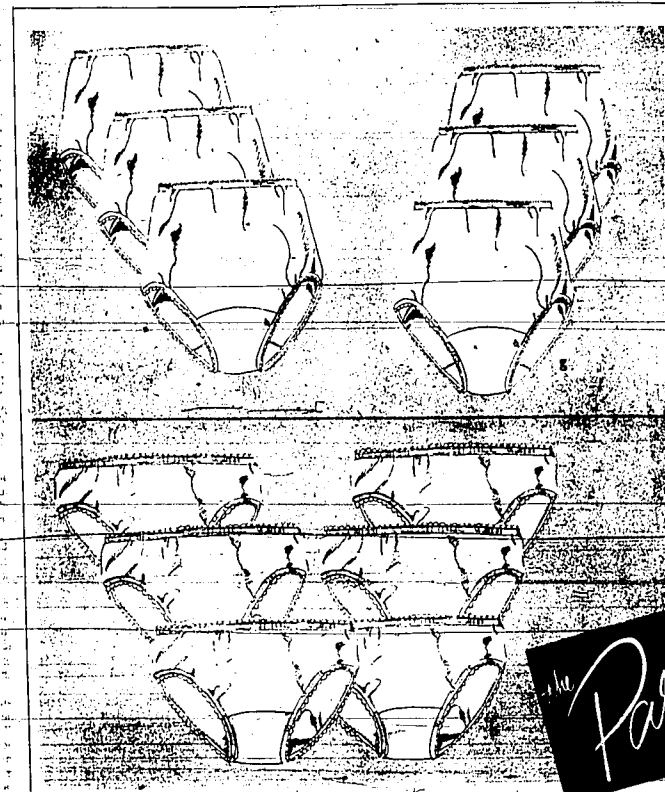

A front-page item in the Times-News, August 18, says that 2,000 U.S. civilians have been requested as part of an Israel-Egypt settlement, to man early warning systems in the demilitarized zone of the Sinai desert.

MAIM wants answers to such questions as:

1. Why are American "monitors" being sent to the Sinai?
2. Isn't this how we got started in Vietnam?
3. Why not let the U. N. or others have the privilege?
4. Why are 18 year old American boys lured with $2,500 per head bribes for combat duty?
5. Why are our leaders suddenly so interested in combat?
6. Isn't this the scenario that we just went through in Vietnam? First, American money, then American arms, then the blood of thousands of American boys.

Again, MAIM urges that a rider be attached to the forthcoming 3 billion dollar bill so that Americans are not sent to the Mideast.

Viking bound for Mars

Mars spacecraft starts journey

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI) — A Viking spacecraft raced through space today on an 11-month voyage to Mars. Scientists hoped the billion-dollar mission would find extraterrestrial life.

A "very clean, very smooth" launch sent the Viking ship hurtling into a hazy Florida sky Wednesday atop a Titan-Centaur-rocket. Some 30 minutes later, a burn of the rocket's engines put the spacecraft on a trajectory designed to take it on a looping, 505-million mile journey around the sun to Mars.

The Viking, a mini-laboratory equipped with sophisticated sensing equipment, is to reach the planet's orbit by June 19, 1976. A lander called Prospector may be detached to touch down on the Martian surface on the nation's bicentennial July 4.

Purpose of the mission, which includes the launch of a second Viking Sept. 1, is to study soil samples and other data for evidence of life on the red planet.

"I think the probability of finding life on Mars is pretty damn small," Dr. Noel Hinners, National Aeronautics and Space Administration associate administrator for space science, said Wednesday. "But, boy, do I ever hope we find life."

While some scientists think chances of finding life on the planet are greater than Hinners is willing to grant, others have been equally skeptical. All, however, agree the mission was worth undertaking.

"I think man is very egotistical and self-centered and takes a self-centered view of his position in the universe. It would be humbling to find life elsewhere," Hinners said.

He added finding evidence of evolution on Mars also would answer some scientific questions about the relationship of the planets to that process.

"We have the question, is evolution tied to the size and chemistry of a planet? I think the human mind is very inquisitive. We want to understand where we fit into the scheme of the universe — where we have been, where we are going, how did we get here and what are we?" Hinners said.

After Viking arrives and begins orbiting Mars, the other part of the spacecraft, called Pathfinder, will take pictures and transmit them back to earth to insure the Martian landing site is safe for Prospector, Viking officials said.

UN shelves Puerto Rico

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) — The United Nations has bargained to American pressure and shelved debate on a resolution affirming the right of Puerto Rico to "self-determination and independence."

The U.N. Decolonization Committee voted 11-9 with two abstentions Wednesday to put off the controversial debate on the status of Puerto Rico until next year.

The United States had campaigned vigorously against the resolution, warning all members of the committee that a vote for the motion would be considered an "unfriendly act."

Mac fires double salvo

By United Press International

Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., lashed out at President Ford Wednesday, but he had some strange targets, too, for his fellow Democrats, seeking a chance to do better next year than he did in 1972.

Addressing the National Student Association convention in Washington, the 1972 Democratic nominee criticized his colleagues for avoiding "hard questions."

"While the incumbent defends, and seeks to extend, militarism, monopoly and the maldistribution of wealth, the opposition candidates for the most part offer only to subtract a little here, and a little there and try to be a little decent," McGovern said.

"Hard questions of racism, economic organization and inflation are avoided or answered with riddles."

"The prescription for this political season is to offend no one. But the only way to offend no one is to stand for nothing. Many men seem to think they can be president; few want to say why."

The Democratic opposition may cling to the center, but it will be a dead center, he warned. "The party will be united, but delusional."

One of the Democrats running for the nomination, Jimmy Carter of Georgia, told the Young Democrats convention in St. Louis Wednesday President Ford "shows a total absence of leadership capabilities."

The former Georgia governor said Ford "looks good in two respects — his integrity as compared to Richard Nixon's and his administrative ability as compared to Congress."

Rep. Morris K. Udall, D-Ariz., another candidate, endorsed Secretary of State Henry Kissinger's Middle East shuttle and the likelihood of an interim peace agreement as "the surest way for avoiding another oil embargo. It makes war less likely."

Campaigning in Harrisburg, Pa., Udall said Wednesday Gov. Milton Shapp's candidacy would not stop him from entering the Pennsylvania primary.

Campaigning in Nashville, Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, D-Tex., said Alabama Gov. George Wallace is losing his clout as a key contender.

On the Republican side: — A group of 210 prominent California Republicans, including supporters of former President Nixon and former California Gov. Ronald Reagan, went on record in favor of Ford.

Minnesota Republicans visited Tuesday by Ford, say one reason for his trip was to shake some money loose from GOP contributors, who have been reticent to contribute to the party since Watergate.

— Members of the Republican National Convention Site Committee met with Kansas Gov. Robert Bennett to talk about possible use of a Topeka hotel to handle an overflow of delegates if Kansas City is chosen as the site of the 1976 convention.

Artist's drawing shows outcome of Jerome Elks Lodge remodeling

Lodge remodeling slated at Jerome

JEROME — Renovation of the Jerome Elks Lodge building will soon become a reality as bids will be let Thursday.

Lynn Davis, chairman of the building committee, said the project should begin about two weeks after the bids are let. The project includes a 25x78-foot addition to the building, removal of the present lodge rooms to the second floor, leaving the ground floor with 4,500 square feet of space which will accommodate between 500 and 600 persons.

"The interior remodeling will double the capacity for banquets and parties," Davis said.

The front of the building will be completely renovated which will include sand blasting and painting of the exterior of the entire structure. Plans also call for complete remodeling of the bar area and the new kitchen will feature catering, according to Davis.

The exterior design of the building, created by the University of Idaho students during their study in Jerome last summer, played a prime part in the organization's decision to improve the building, Davis said.

The addition will extend to the sidewalk on West Alder and will include a 25x25 rental office space on the corner of West Main and Alder.

Entrance to the building will be on West Main. Large double doors will open to a carpeted foyer where interior doors will lead to the office lounge and upstairs lodge rooms.

The interior remodeling program will feature a new ladies powder room, spiral staircase to upstairs, three station island bar and permanent carpeted bandstand. The project also calls for a 50x25 addition to the present 50x50 dance floor.

Public meet set on 'port

TWIN FALLS — There will be a public meeting to air objectives and details of the proposed southern Idaho Regional airport at 8:15 p.m. Monday at the Blue Lakes Inn.

One of six such meetings, the hearing will be conducted by George Forschler, chairman of the Southern Idaho Regional Airport Authority.

Attending will be George Buley, Seattle, Wash., chief of the airport's planning branch of the Federal Aviation Administration, and Dave Fields, planning engineer for the FAA. Larry Methewson, Idaho Department of Transportation, will be present also.

Two representatives of TAP Inc., Billings, Mont., the firm drawing plans for the proposed airport will attend.

The recently approved environmental impact statement will be discussed, as will progress on the master plan.

The regional airport board of trustees will conduct routine business during a meeting at the Holiday Inn, preceding the evening hearing.

Evans stresses individual values

POCATELLO, Idaho (UPI) — Lt. Gov. John Evans in a statement prepared for the Idaho County Treasurers Association said the real crisis in energy is learning to rethink individual values.

He also said a return to traditional values in the nation is enhancing the role of local governments.

TF mayor questions proposed plan

In other action, the planning committee discussed the manner of its booth at the county fair at which material on the proposed comprehensive plan will be made available to the public.

The planning council intends to use the fair booth to canvass the public on its reaction to the proposed plan and to make use of statements from citizens in further refining the plan.

As such, the fair booth and the public polling effort have become the next major step in what the council has outlined as the planning process. The fair booth effort has gradually taken on more importance as a means of reaching the public and collecting reactions from it, especially in view of the cessation of public-input sessions begun by Richey last fall but terminated at the direction of the council after the sessions drew few participants.

After discussion last night of the manner of the fair booth, the council approved a motion to minimize operation of the planning office during the fair to give Richey and assistant planner Stan Ferlie free rein to keep the fair booth open and to contact the public.

In addition, copies of the comprehensive plan rough draft, maps and other statistical materials will be on display at the fair. Citizens visiting the fair booth will also receive free calendars which list the names of the planning council members on the cover.

Turning to other matters the planning council approved travel expenses for Richey to go to Moscow at the end of the month to work out details for a University of Idaho student team to come to Twin Falls to assess housing needs in the county and otherwise assist with the comprehensive plan.

At the suggestion of chairman Muldoon council meetings were scheduled for Sept. 17 and 24, the first being the council's regular meeting and the second an added work session.

Jerome fair winners announced

JEROME — Top winners in the 42nd annual Jerome County Fair and Rodeo parade were announced Wednesday by fair officials.

Taking top honors in the novelty division was Tammy Clark and Angela Findley who received $15 prize. Second place went to Laura Forsyth, Janice Lancaster and Julie Eyring and third place was awarded to Darby and Benny Neff.

In the children's division, a new category this year, top honors to Janet, Carl and Lynn Kiser. Second place went to Becky Eyring who made a bicentennial wagon and third place was won by R.C. Cummins.

First place in the oldtimer's horse and wagon division was won by Rex Reed. Second place went to Shorty Allen and third to Al Adams. In the commercial division top honors went to The Idaho First National Bank.

Best theme, "Changing Times," representation was won by the Northside News with the Jerome County Builders Club taking second and the Smoke Shop bar and cafe receiving third.

The Valley Vikings took top honors over the Jerome Tigers in the drill team competition.

First place in the riding club division went to the Jerome Sheriff's posse with second place going to the Jerome Junior Posse. The Jerome County Builders Club also took top place in the organization division which is also new to the parade this year. Second place went to Beta Sigma Phi and third the Jerome Freshman Cheerleaders.

Wednesday's fair activities included the judging of ceramics and "hobbies" and open class farm produce. In the 4-H and FFA divisions, horse, dairy and goat fitting and showing were held.

Activities got under way at 9 a.m. this morning with the dog obedience followed by dog fitting and showing. Also at 9 a.m. the swine fitting, showing and quality were held. Beef fitting, showing and quality were also held this morning.

Rupert boy needs new pair of jeans

RUPERT — Tommy Vaughan wants a new pair of jeans.

The 5-year-old Rupert boy was covered with paint Tuesday morning when a city compressor blew up.

Tommy said he was walking on the sidewalk at the city square when the problem machine sprayed him with paint.

His mother, Mrs. Wayne Vaughan, said she was able to clean the boy and the shirt and belt were old. But she thought the city should stand the $6 cost of a new pair of jeans.

The City Council Tuesday night directed City Clerk

Loretta Klingenberg to contact the city's insurance carrier about the matter.

The council-labeled another insurance issue to investigate whether or not the city has burglary insurance.

"If we don't have it, I'm unhappy surprised," said Councilman Clark Cameron.

The burglary insurance issue arose out of a claim filed by a city swimming pool employee for loss of diving equipment valued at $50. The equipment was taken Aug. 10, along with a city-leased cash register and about $25 cash.

Mrs. Klingenberg said the insurance carrier told her Rupert has no burglary insurance.

O'Leary property sale likely

By DAVID HORSMAN
Times-News writer

TWIN FALLS — Chances appear good that a portion of the O'Leary Junior High School property will be sold in construction of a joint law enforcement building.

The school board chairman, a city councilman and the county commission chairman, after a discussion of the subject Tuesday night, expressed optimism that the deal will be made.

Dr. Howard Runk, chairman of the Twin Falls school trustees, Wednesday said he personally "would hope to see it. I think it would bring about an efficiency (in law enforcement) that is real desirable."

City Councilman Leon Smith said, "I feel pretty good about it. It's moving right along and everything is being worked out."

Merl Leonard, county commission chairman, said: "I think the atmosphere was optimistic (at Tuesday's meeting)."

The discussion reportedly has ballooned to the possible sale of a strip of land about 30 feet wide between the O'Leary School and the county judicial building. Initial proposals included the sale of the entire "front yard" of O'Leary on Shoshone Street.

According to Smith, if the land is made available by the school district, the county will probably buy it and "the city and county would go together on a joint-use agreement."

Leonard said the county "absolutely" will buy the land if it is offered.

Currently, the city and county have independent plans to construct enforcement buildings. The city structure, expected to cost more than $50,000 would be built behind city hall. The county plans to add a second story to the judicial building at a cost of more than $1 million.

Both governmental units hope to acquire the school property and share a joint building.

The plans for separate structures would then be dropped, hopefully leading to increased efficiency in the joint building and a savings in tax dollars.

The school board is considering replacement of the O'Leary School. Property for a new junior high already has been purchased at Elizabeth Boulevard and Eastland Drive.

School Supt. George Staudacher has recommended that a bond issue vote be called for a new school rather than spending an estimated $700,000 for improvement of O'Leary to meet new safety standards.

Both Smith and Leonard said the school trustees are now "carrying the ball" on the land sale question.

Dr. Runk said the sale will be discussed in a special board meeting Tuesday night. There is a "good chance" that a decision will be reached that night, he said.

Shoshone pool opens

SHOSHONE — First swimming lessons offered at the new $85,000 swimming pool in Shoshone began Monday morning.

According to pool manager Mrs. Chris Debridge, Shoshone's some 90 persons, from adults to 6-year-old children, have enrolled for the two-week course to be held this week and after school next week.

Originally the pool officials had anticipated the pool would be open earlier this month and therefore more persons could have taken the lessons. However, the pool, heated to 86 degrees, will be open to the public during the afternoons and from 1 to 6 and 7 to 9 p.m. each day as long as weather permits, Mrs. Debridge said.

The lessons which began Monday run each half hour from 8:30 a.m. through 12:30, beginning with an adult class.

Linda Sharp, Jerome, is the instructor, and Mrs. Debridge will be assisted by Kathy Churchman and Kelley Williams, all Shoshone, as lifeguards. The guards will be at the pool during all hours it is open.

Opening of this pool, the first for Lincoln County area, is a long-time dream come true for many persons. First funds were collected 17 years ago, with a more concentrated effort made the past two years, initiated by local persons who were interested and members, particularly, of the Rotary Club.

The pool is located on the west edge of the Shoshone (Mary L. Gooding) park, north of Hall Street and is situated in a natural setting for beauty and convenience. It is 75 feet long and 30 feet wide with a shallow end of three and a half feet and a deep end reaching eight feet.

Rupert reschedules bond election

RUPERT — Bonding for the proposed construction of an intermediate care facility at Minidoka County Memorial Hospital will go to a vote Sept. 16.

The election was originally scheduled Sept. 2, but county commissioners were forced to change the date Monday night because of posting requirements.

August Bethe, county clerk, told commissioners the law requires two notices be posted in each precinct 20 days prior to the election.

The bond proposal is for $300,000 for expansion of the hospital by adding a 45-bed intermediate-care facility. The new facility is to care for convalescent and ambulatory elderly persons requiring less extensive supervision.

Road aid discussed

SUN VALLEY — Federal aid highway program funding and 1975-highway legislation is being discussed in a meeting of 75 financial specialists of the Federal Highway Administration here.

The specialists are from Idaho, Washington, D.C., Oregon, Washington and Alaska. The Idaho Transportation Department and the Idaho Division of the Federal Highway Administration are serving as hosts for the meeting.

Between shots

Twins Erik and Kris Nystrom, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Nystrom, stand by the family car in between shots in the filming of Walt Disney's Production "Open Winter" in Shoshone Tuesday and Wednesday of this week. Cars of this type lined the streets in front of the courthouse area in Shoshone and a herd of wild horses was seen in one section of the shooting.

Burley taxicabs to charge higher rates

BURLEY — Burley Taxi Co. received a city council nod Monday night for a cab fare hike. The council directed City Attorney William Parsons to draft an ordinance granting the franchised operator a 25-cent increase per trip and an additional 25 cents for each additional person 15 years or older. Council agreement came after owner Gale Bailey said there had been no taxi fare increase since he purchased the cab company three years ago.

Councilman James Roper moved for drafting the new ordinance, remarking that it could be put into force at the council's next meeting as an emergency ordinance and Bailey could start charging the new rate the following day. The new basic fare rate would be $1.25 within the area bounded by Fifth Street on the north and 19th Street on the south, between Park and Hilland avenues.

The Paris

'Open Winter' filming continues in Shoshone

By MELBA THORNE
Times-News writer

SHOSHONE — The town has been as much excitement here since the day the late President Harry S. Truman stopped en route to dedicate the Carey airport in 1948.

The current attraction is the filming of the Walt Disney production "Open Winter," with more than 30 Lincoln County residents participating as stand-ins.

The filming, originally scheduled for Tuesday and today, is expected to extend another day, according to the local "actors." They said filming of the three scenes Tuesday went slowly with some scenes shot as many as seven times.

Shoshone police and state patrolmen diverted traffic from the filming area on the street west of the courthouse, a block from Highway 83 where the homes of Lee Kelley and George Cook were used as background.

Today's filming began at 7:30 a.m. with overcast skies. Scenes scheduled today include ones on South Roll Street in front of the Manhattan Cafe and Grosse Drug Store.

Featured in the Tuesday filming were Kenneth Crothers, Betty Clayton and Mark Harris, who posed as the father, mother and child in a scene at the Kelley residence where they were doing yard work. Crothers, superintendent of Shoshone schools, was mowing the lawn while his "wife," Mrs. Clayton, a local beautician, sat under a tree.

Three couples were walking across the street, and were to react to the horses which came thundering down the street. The couples were Howard Adkins, prosecuting attorney, with Mrs. Etta Hahn, Darlene Hubsmith, Richfield, and Reid Newby, Burton Thorne and Mrs. Mabel Johnson.

The third scene shot Tuesday was of the ice man from the Disney crew taking a truck of ice to the back door of the Cook residence. Two little boys about 12, Warren Sturgeon, Shoshone, and another child with the owners of the oldtime cars, used to line the streets, were filmed eating ice. Larry Witcox, one of the stars, supposedly had just come out of the desert looks at them curiously.

The Lincoln County people reporting for "work" were given costumes which included big floppy hats, dresses to midcalf, sweaters and jackets. No makeup was used.

The camera was mounted on a big crane and light control was changed according to the weather which was intermittently cloudy throughout Tuesday.

The filming in Shoshone will end with scenes at the Shoshone stockyards.

Tuesday noon crew members and the local stand-ins attracted a large crowd as they ate a catered lunch on picnic tables placed on the lawn at the Lincoln County Courthouse.

your health

By GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Dear Dr. Thosteson:
I have a very sore mouth and tongue. I've been told I have stomatitis. No cause has been found, and I've been told it is incurable. Can you suggest anything to help? My mouth is very dry and it aches. — Mrs. W.K.

That is a very broad diagnosis.
Stomatitis is an inflammation of the mucous membranes of the mouth (gingivitis (inflammation of the gums) and glossitis of the tongue) are just two forms.
Possible causes include a vitamin deficiency (either the B group or C), an infection, or an injury to the inside of the mouth as from chronic cheek-biting, ill-fitting dentures, ragged teeth, or a reaction from denture material. Alcohol and spicy food can aggravate the problem.

Stomatitis broad diagnosis

Local irritations from smoking or chewing tobacco, snuff, even toothpaste and mouthwash must be suspected. A scraping might identify a specific bacteria as the cause.
Use of antibiotics can cause a fungus infection (thrush).
Narrowing down the diagnosis could be difficult.
Vincent's disease, also called trench mouth, is a vicious and contagious form of stomatitis. This is caused by spirochetes.
Loraneous angina is featured by a sore tongue. Various skin diseases can also involve the mouth — lichen planus or erythema multiforme. Sjogren's disease causes a dryness in the mucous membranes of the mouth.
I would not call your condition incurable. In most of the conditions I mentioned, the underlying cause can be treated effectively once identified.

Dear Dr. Thosteson:
I am three months pregnant and have been having problems with irregular bowel movements. I have taken laxatives on two occasions. Now I have heard that you are not supposed to take any when you are pregnant.
I was wondering if it could have harmed the baby. — Mrs. J. W.

Harsh laxatives should not be used. A mild one such as milk of magnesia or prune juice can be used for this rather common problem associated with pregnancy. Your doctor should prescribe the dosage to suit your needs.
The laxative will not in itself directly affect the baby, but continued use of a harsh laxative can dehydrate you and this could indirectly do harm. Certainly, your two episodes will not have done any damage, so you can stop worrying about that.
Too many pregnant women become sedentary. Inactivity can contribute to constipation. If you were active before becoming pregnant you should probably be doing a mild exercise, during the early months, anyway.
If you have abdominal cramps with your constipation you should report this to your doctor.

Dear Dr. Thosteson:
I am 13 years old and I wash my hair every day. Is this too often?
— MISS R.K.

If isn't. That doesn't mean I think it is necessary, though.
What about constipation? Many can be relieved of it, both mentally and physically, by reading Dr. Thosteson's booklet, "The Way to Stop Constipation." For a copy write to him in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 3899, Elgin, Ill. 60120, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents.

Birth control device studied

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) — University of Utah College of Pharmacy researchers have begun a three year study of a new birth control device that releases the hormone progesterone directly into the uterus.

If the intrauterine device (IUD) proves effective, it would require release of only one-tenth the amount of the hormone that must be taken in oral birth control pills. And the IUD would have to be inserted only once a year when a woman wants to her doctor for annual tests.

The National Institute of Child Health and Human Development has awarded the university a first-year grant of $26,808 for the research.

Project director, Dr. Sen-Maw Fang, said an IUD which released progesterone daily in small amounts is already in use in Canada and Mexico. The Food and Drug Administration is now considering — an application from a commercial firm to market the device in the United States.
Dr. Fang said commercial companies have tested the device for effectiveness and possible side effects, but there have been no extensive studies of the pharmacodynamics, — or action of the device within the body.

Fang, an assistant professor of biopharmaceutics, will study the absorption and uptake of the progesterone by uterine tissues, the rate at which it is metabolized, how much of the hormone goes into other body organs.

Event set for couple

TWIN FALLS — Mr. and Mrs. Del Slaughter will be honored by members of the Magic Valley Symphony Orchestra at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Twin Falls power park.

Slaughter served as conductor of the orchestra for the past 12 years until this past spring. Mrs. Slaughter has played in the group since it began in 1959, serving the last several years as concertmistress.

Symphony members, their families and interested persons are invited. The symphony board will supply watermelon and drink, according to Lawrence Curtis, new conductor of the symphony.

Club tours garden

FILER — Members of the Wendell and Gooding Garden Club toured the herb and other gardens of Mrs. Reuben Herman Monday.

Each one was given a packet of fresh herbs or a potted plant and Mrs. Lierman served mint and confrey teas.

Mrs. John Melver, club president, was in charge of arrangements for the tour.

It is a cinch to find a way to get out of a three no-trump. All South has to do is to lead a diamond toward dummy at trick two and rise with an honor. East will hold back his ace. Then South will have no way to collect more than one extra diamond trick.

South will complain that suits never break for him, but his complaint should fall on deaf ears.

South stops to think after finding that first spade he will

Abby

By Abigail Van Buren
1975 by Chicago Tribune N.Y. News Synd. Inc.

DEAR ABBY: Because you have always been a good friend to the Como Park Zoo, I am asking a favor of you. We have a 5-month-old female orangutan named Joy who has been invited to the Los Angeles Zoo on a "breeding loan." They have a male orangutan named Guy whom they would like to mate with Joy.

Do you know anyone who has an air-conditioned automobile who would be willing to drive Joy and her foster parents (Arlene and Joe Scheunemann) to Chicago to board an airplane to transport Joy to L.A.?

Joy is small enough to be held in one's arms, she has good manners, and she would do no damage to the automobile.

JOHN FLETCHER, DIRECTOR
ST. PAUL, COMO PARK ZOO

DEAR JOHN: If Joy is a "liberated" orangutan, she may not like the idea of going to L.A. to accommodate the male. If Guy wants a date with a sure thing, why doesn't he fly to St. Paul?

On the other hand, if Joy WANTS to meet Guy in L.A., I will provide the child bride with air-conditioned transportation. And I hope she returns "air-conditioned."

TF couple recites nuptial vows

TWIN FALLS — Karen Louise McClusky and Wayne S. Forrey were married in an Aug. 2 ceremony at the Twin Falls Eighth Ward LDS Building.

Bishop Grant Stanley conducted the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. David A. McClusky and the bridegroom's parent are Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Forrey, all Twin Falls.

The bride wore a gown of sheer organza trimmed with velvet lace. The modified V neckline was edged with a velvet lace garland which continued along the ruffled redingote line of the skirt and around the chapel length train.

The long sheer sleeves were finished at the wrist with lace above a narrow circular ruffle.

Her waist-length veil was held by a matching lace headpiece. She carried an old-fashioned bouquet of yellow roses, white daisy pom-pom chrysanthemums, and carnations with greenery.

The large circular buffet table was decorated with a two-foot circular bouquet of yellow and white chrysanthemums, pom-pom chrysanthemums and carnations with greenery.

The tables were arranged in the yard with a background of garden flowers and yellow and lavender chrysanthemum plants.

The tables were covered with lemon yellow daisies and white chrysanthemums, hot pink carnations, blue corn flowers and baby's breath in baskets. Guests were given yellow roses filled with rice for showering the couple as they left on their honeymoon trip. The roses were made by the mother of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Wayne W. West, aunt of the bride, cut the cake.

Kathleen West served punch and Julia West poured coffee. Both are cousins of the bride.

Sally Soran registered guests. Mrs. David McClusky Jr. and Julie Gaughey cared for gifts.

The bride was honored at personal showers given by Mrs. George W. Warner and Mrs. Louis B. Meigs, both Twin Falls; Mrs. Luther Jones and Diane Jones, Boise; Julie Kaughey and Tully Barker, both Twin Falls; Lee Ann Dorland and Mrs. Charles Alban, Twin Falls; and Mrs. D.W. Peckard, Mrs. Wallace Savage and Mrs. Robert McCracken, all Twin Falls.

Out-of-town guests attended from Chicago, Ill.; Dallas, Tex.; Columbus, Ohio; Boise, Idaho; Rupert, Buhl, Wendell and Jerome, Idaho; and Salt Lake City, Utah.

Following a wedding trip to Yellowstone National Park and Teton National Park, the couple resides in Provo where the bridegroom will complete his education at Brigham Young University.

CSI to offer additional music courses

Thursday, August 21, 1975 Times-News, Twin Falls, Idaho 15

TWIN FALLS — Lawrence Curtis, head of the College of Southern Idaho Department of Music, said today the department will offer more music courses than ever this fall.

Curtis said new music courses include Magic Valley Symphony and an advanced vocal performing group. Curtis said he will direct the symphony this year and credit will be offered for the first time. The symphony will meet at 7:30 p.m. each Tuesday, beginning Sept. 2.

Harold Smith will direct the vocal performing group which will meet at 2:10 p.m. Monday and Wednesday and 3 to 4 p.m. on Fridays.

Kenneth Reynold will instruct guitar classes and Don Royster will be organ instructor, using the J and Tine Hill Memorial Organ recently received at the college. Thomas Breske will offer freshman music theory daily at 1 p.m. and sophomore theory daily at 9 a.m. Music fundamentals will be taught at 8 a.m. on Tuesday and Thursday. Breske also teaches class piano. Smith will rehearse the college choir from 2 to 4 p.m. on Tuesday and Thursday and from 2 to 3 p.m. on Friday. He also teaches music history at 11 a.m. daily and private voice and piano. Curtis also directs the concert band which meets daily at noon and the stage band which meets at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, beginning Sept. 3. His music appreciation class meets at 10 a.m. Monday, Wednesday and Friday. He also teaches a brass class and gives private wind and percussion lessons.

Valley HS squad wins honors

VALLEY SCHOOLS — Valley High School cheerleaders returned home this week from competition at the National Cheerleaders Association Camp. Pepperidge College, at Malibu, Calif.

During the four-day event the girls won two superior and two excellent ribbons and a spirit stick in competition with the 360 high school cheerleaders from all over the United States who attended the event. They were judged and evaluated on their cheers and yell by a board of judges and instructors at the camp.

The Valley High School squad was composed of varsity cheerleaders Marla Baldwin, Susan Bloxham and Cheri Black; mascot Janice Ellis, cheerleader Janice Rust, Tammy Johnson and Angie Holland.

Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Johnson, Hazelton, and Sandra Huhn, Las Vegas, accompanied the group.

Searchers find plane wreckage

BOISE (UPI) — Searchers Wednesday afternoon found the wreckage of a small plane from San Dimas, Calif., that carried five persons to their deaths Tuesday on a hillside 40 miles south-west of Boise.

Owyhee County Sheriff Tim Nettleton said the wreckage of the small plane was spotted at 4 p.m. and verified by ground parties. The victims were identified as Mr. and Mrs. Earl Marx, both in their middle 30s, and their three children.

The names and ages of the children were not immediately available.

A spokesman for the Idaho Division of Aeronautics said the family died instantly when their plane hit a hillside at the 6,300 foot level during inclement weather about 1 p.m. Tuesday.

Coal venture eyed

BOISE (UPI) — Attorney General Wayne Kidwell said Wednesday a preliminary probe indicates participation by the University of Idaho in a shopping center would not jeopardize the state's credit and the school and state were not jeopardized.

He wrote Sen. Larry Craig, R-Midvale, an investigation has been initiated into allegations made in the May edition of the Idaho Argonaut, the student newspaper, concerning a venture by the university into the Palouse Empire Mall at Moscow.

Although preliminary fact findings were made in June by a legal intern in his office, Kidwell said a full investigation was continuing.

Andrus urges firing

BOISE (UPI) — Gov. Cecil D. Andrus returned from Washington, D.C., Wednesday and a meeting in which he urged the new secretary of health, education and welfare to fire some bureaucratic underlings.

Andrus said he met privately with Dr. David Mathews, both on behalf of the State of Idaho and on behalf of the Human Resources Committee he chairs for the National Governors' Conference.

As a representative of the other 49 governors, Andrus discussed the Health Planning and Resources Development Act of 1974 and the $12 billion in industrialized, overdue repayment monies to the states for social services.

"Some states are starting to hurt," Andrus said. "Their appropriated monies are running out. The governors are of the opinion this is just a means to balance the budget."

He said he would look into it.

Andrus also expressed concern about the act itself and said Mathews told him candidly there was very little sentiment in Capitol Hill to repeal the act. Andrus said there also was very little sentiment in that regard among second, third and fourth level HEW bureaucrats who helped write it, too.

No wrongdoing found

BOISE (UPI) — An audit on Idaho Association of Cities books for the first seven months of 1975 brought to light carelessness and a lack of controls in bookkeeping but no willful wrongdoing, the executive committee said Wednesday.

The audit attempted to respond to all specific allegations "which came to our attention through reliable sources as well as provide a general overview of the accounting for association funds," auditors from Ernst & Ernst said.

Attorney General Wayne Kidwell recommended the association conduct the independent audit of its books after allegations were made that Floyd Decker, executive director of the association, had been charging personal expenses to the association, phone calls, parking tickets, travel expenditures, and giving unjustified compensation to employees.

Firm conducts pay study

BOISE (UPI) — A final report conducted by an eastern firm on a study of salaries for state employees will be presented to the Idaho Legislative Council's Personnel System Committee in Boise Thursday.

Hay and Associates, Chicago, will make known its study of recommended pay increases for Idaho employees which it has been conducting since money was made available for the survey in March.

A study was made on job classifications of every service to see how they rate with private industry and whether state employees were being paid too much or not enough for the type of job they performed.

Idea for the study was to eliminate fighting among legislators on the amount of pay increases that should be provided employees, although a council spokesman said Wednesday "there will always be individual battles."

US security risked by exposed secrets

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The ability of this nation to resist attacks by Communists may hinge on how the CIA survives "an effort to make it appear immoral, shady and un-American," the agency's deputy director says.

"We cannot resist the advance of communism if we are not best and best and our people are turned inside out and contents exposed to every foreigner to look at," Lt. Gen. Vernon Walters told the annual convention of Veterans of Foreign Wars Wednesday.

"We cannot operate with all of our secrets being turned out for public view."

Walters insisted that the "real issue" Americans should be concerned about today is "not the truth or falsehood of allegations about the CIA activities, most of which he discounted."

"The real issue is this," he said. "Is the United States as a free and democratic nation going to have eyes to see and ears to hear?"

"Or are we going to stumble into the future, blind and deaf, until the day we have to choose between abject humiliation and nuclear blackmail?"

Just like Las Vegas

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (UPI) — Stephen Nichol, 18, said it was like playing a slot machine in Las Vegas. He was the winner and the U.S. government was the loser — by some 2,020 10-cent stamps.

Nichol said he put a dime in a shopping center stamp machine last week and it began spewing out a long stream of stamps.

"It was just like Las Vegas," said Nichol.

The teen-ager "dressed the string of stamps over his arms and shoulders and carried them home. His father called postal officials who drove to Nichol's home, thanked the boy and his father and retrieved the stamps."

Missing panels destroyed in 1969

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Missing ceiling panels from the hotel pantry where Robert Kennedy was assassinated in 1968 apparently were destroyed by a "lower echelon" police officer one year after the shooting, according to a special counsel in the city attorney's office.

Special counsel Dion Morrow said the decision to destroy the panels apparently was made in June, 1969, by the police employee because the trial of convicted assassin Sirhan Sirhan was over and they were never introduced in evidence.

Representatives of the police department and city attorney's office were summoned to appear before the City Council today to explain how the panels came to be destroyed and to discuss the possible disappearance of other pieces of evidence.

Critics of the original investigation into the Kennedy assassination have sought to look at the Ambassador Hotel ceiling panels. They claim an examination of the bullet holes could help determine how many bullets were fired and from what direction.

But Morrow, contacted in Sacramento, Calif., after a story quoting him appeared Wednesday in the Daily Journal legal newspaper, suggested the missing panels were not of great significance.

"Even if you have the panels you couldn't put them back because you wouldn't know where they were in the first place," he said.

"In my opinion they would not have any great significance."

City councilman Zev Yarowsky, who introduced a motion Tuesday asking police to cooperate with a reexamination of trial evidence designed to indicate whether there might have been a second assassin, disagreed.

"For the longest time we weren't even aware that the ceiling panels no longer existed," Yarowsky said. "All of a sudden, it comes to the attention of the public through a newspaper story that they were destroyed."

O'Brien refuses lie detector test

DETROIT (UPI) — A lawyer for James Hoffa's foster son, Charles O'Brien, says O'Brien will not take a lie detector test to determine if he knows anything about the onetime Teamster union czar's disappearance 21 days ago.

Hoffa's lawyer son, James P. Hoffa, has demanded repeatedly O'Brien take the test "because he knows something."

The demand came after investigators placed O'Brien in the area of a suburban Detroit parking lot where Hoffa was last seen July 30. O'Brien said later he was in the area early July 31 only because he was waiting for a ride to work.

The former Teamsters president vanished after telling his family he was meeting a reputed Mafia kingpin and two other men for lunch. The three denied they planned to meet Hoffa.

O'Brien's lawyer, James Burdick, said Wednesday O'Brien would not submit to the test. The FBI has not asked him to take one, he added.

Burdick reportedly has advised O'Brien not to submit to any lie detector interrogation on grounds such tests are "often inconclusive."

The lawyer also disclosed two FBI agents and a state police investigator had questioned O'Brien about the Hoffa disappearance for about five hours Monday at a state police office at Detroit's Metropolitan airport.

The meeting, Burdick said, dealt with "very specific" details of O'Brien's whereabouts over a three-or-four-day period around July 30. He refused to elaborate.

The FBI and State Police declined comment Wednesday night.

Burdick said the meeting was requested by the FBI and that O'Brien flew to Detroit from his home in West Memphis, Ark. for it.

It was the second such meeting, Burdick said, and it also covered the question of O'Brien's whereabouts immediately before and after Hoffa vanished. The first meeting occurred, Burdick said, about a week after Hoffa disappeared.

Meanwhile, a Florida man who mailed photos of Hoffa to the Detroit bureau of United Press International and to James P. Hoffa said Wednesday he has more mailings — this time to enlist the aid of 600,000 handicapped persons in the hunt for Hoffa.

The man, C. Monroe Lerman of Orlando, told UPI in a telephone call to Detroit that he would apologize to Hoffa's son, who called the mailing of the photo to him a "cruel joke."

Rupert aides eye cable TV hearing

RUPERT — A public hearing was recommended Tuesday night before either cancellation or extension of the cable television franchise here.

Don Chisholm, city attorney, told the Rupert City Council that the city's franchise ordinance does not delineate the extent of service required of the company holding the TV franchise and does not specify causes for cancellation.

However, he offered the opinion that the TV franchise could be revoked if the council found the franchise holder failed "to operate in the public interest."

Cable View holds franchises to provide cable television service in both Minidoka and Cassia counties.

"At its Aug. 5 meeting, the council had instructed the city attorney to research the cable TV franchise ordinance regarding possible revocation."

The move came after lengthy discussion with Mike Reynolds, manager of Cable View, regarding extension of service to areas of the city not now covered.

Chisholm recommended Tuesday that the council call for a public hearing before either revocation or any extension of the franchise.

Mayor Wendell Johnson said no action would be taken pending another appearance Sept. 2 by Reynolds, who had told the council he would have the non-service areas mapped.

Cable View is also under fire in Burley because of failure to provide service to Goose Creek Manor.

Paul Farley and Helen Marsh

Burley shooters win

BURLEY — A Burley policeman and the wife of a police sergeant earned honors last Thursday for their sharp-shooting.

Patrolman Paul Farley and Helen Marsh, wife of Sgt. William Marsh, took trophies at the Idaho Falls Police Association Invitational Pistol Match.

The Burley Police Department team of Farley, Sgt. Marsh, Capt. Ralph Marsh and Capt. Kirby Harkness finished fourth in the team competition.

Mrs. Marsh won first place in the Class A women's division, firing the top score of all women shooters.

She scored 232 points out of a possible 240 to earn her fourth police shoot trophy. She started competing 4 1/2 years ago.

Patrolman Farley placed third in the unclassified division. He scored 1,381 points out of a possible 1,500.

Sixteen women and 96 officers competed. Farley has 25-30 shooters in his class, while Mrs. Marsh has about half a dozen in hers.

Canoe-type vessel stolen from garage

TWIN FALLS — Steven Birkby, 1334 Falls Ave. E., told Twin Falls police someone entered the garage at his home and removed a boat sometime Tuesday.

He said the boat is actually a canoe-type vessel made of fiberglass and could be handled by one person. The boat measured 16 feet in length. He said the theft occurred between 3 p.m. and 11 p.m. Tuesday. Value of the boat was estimated at $150.

About $400 worth of equipment, including the intake manifold and three barrel carburetor was reported missing Wednesday by Wills Motor Co. used car lot. The items were removed from a 1971 Plymouth sedan in the lot some time before 8 a.m. Tuesday.

Twin Falls city police are investigating both theft reports.

Hansen leases mini-bus

HANSEN — The Hansen School District will lease a second-mini-bus-to-transport students to the cooperative classes at Kimberly.

Supt. Garth Miller said the vehicle will be leased from the Dorsey Bus Co., Oregon. The district already leases one such vehicle.

Miller said the small buses are well suited for taking a small number of students on the shuttle runs between the two towns because they are much more economical to operate than the normal sized school bus.

He said it is possible that students will be bused up to six times, for each class period, but he can not tell for sure until registration is completed.

Trustees Monday night also approved a general athletic policy, similar to the one previously in force. Miller said since there are new coaches it was thought necessary to have the policy officially rewritten.

The board accepted the resignation of Mrs. Lola Hanks, English teacher, and hired Mrs. Julie Schwede, Twin Falls, to replace her. Holly Hermanson, California, was hired to teach fourth grade. These appointments complete the faculty, Miller said.

Merr Miller was hired as an additional secretary in the school office. Trustees approved prices on activity tickets and gate prices on sports events.

Student activity cards will be $6 for high school students and $4 for junior high pupils. Adult activity card, entitling the owner to attend all sporting events throughout the school year, will be $15. There are no family tickets this year.

Gate prices will be $10 for adults, $1 for students and 50 cents for children.

Park plan drawn up at Dietrich
DIETRICH — Control of the Dietrich City Park will remain with the City Council, according to recent decision by the council.

Other sources had contacted the city for use of the park but after some discussion the council voted to retain control and to continue projects to improve the area.

Roger Stoddard, councilman, will gather information on weed killers and Mayor Clifford Davis will obtain equipment to work the ground prior to seeding the area to lawn.

Councilman John Sabala was asked to check into replacing a stop sign at the corner of the Park Street and Highway 25 which was stolen earlier this year.

Mayor Davis said closer surveillance on "hotrod problems" will be taken up with the county sheriff.

Budget shows public health costs up

By BONNIE BAIRD JONES

Times-News writer

TWIN FALLS — Public health costs will rise about one fourth in Magic Valley next year if the preliminary budget proposals submitted here Wednesday are approved by the South-Central District Health Board.

Dr. Wayne Carle, medical director for the district, submitted a budget during a board meeting Wednesday calling for a local assessment of $2.78 per capita in each of the eight counties making up the district. This compares with a per capita assessment of $2.45 last year. In addition to the county levies, state and federal funds provide for all of certain services and matching money for others.

The total budget as tentatively proposed calls for $618,108 compared to $522,213 last year.

Dr. Carle said the increase would amount to only about one pack of cigarettes per year for each taxpayer in Magic Valley.

"We may only give you half a pack," William Chancy, board chairman and Twin Falls County commissioner, informed the director. Chancy said he felt the 53 cents per capita increase per year is going to be difficult to justify, not only to the county commissioners in each county, but the taxpayers.

"If we were going to give the people more health services, I might go along with it, but this is a higher cost for the same services," he said.

Dr. Carle will meet with each board of county commissioners individually to discuss the budget. A budget committee composed of a commissioner from each county must review the budget and approve it before it becomes final.

Health board members will make recommendations in their September meeting and have a final decision at least by October. The budget committee will meet the first Monday in December for final action.

Each county assessed on a basis of population with the largest assessment against

Twin Falls County. The proposed 1976 budget calls for $116,419 in Twin Falls County compared to $94,066 last year or about 1.73 mills this year compared to 1.4 mills last year.

Other counties and their share of the budget include Blaine, 16,000 compared to $12,935 last year; 47 mills; Camas, $2,036 compared to $1,630; 515 mills; Cassia $47,370 compared to $38,289; 1.2 mills; Gooding, $24,058 compared to $19,451; 1.2 mills; Jerome, $28,560 compared to $23,069; 1.03 mills; Lincoln, $8,518 compared to $6,478; .02 mills; and Minidoka, $43,786 compared to $35,395; 1.8 mills.

Dr. Carle said the average mill levy required to bring in the county assessments would be 1.007.

Resignation given by Ketchum mayor

By BART QUESNELL

Times-News writer

KETCHUM — After months of bickering, Ketchum Mayor Bill Brand submitted his resignation Wednesday in terse one-sentence style.

The sentence, signed by Brand read, "effective immediately, I hereby submit my resignation as mayor of the city of Ketchum."

Brand served two years in the post. He was forced almost continually during that term with allegations of conflict of interest.

He said Wednesday, "I'm tired of the hassling, I just got tired of it."

He claimed throughout his term he felt there was no substance to the conflict of interest charges lodged against him by the City Council and by some Ketchum residents.

Brand had promised for over a year he would decide whether to be fire chief and mayor at the same time.

A heated dispute began in the summer of 1974 when in a secret meeting the council voted to withhold Brand's fireman's salary of $685 per month until a decision was reached.

All council members denied at that time they were forcing Brand to resign. Brand said if forced to choose, he would remain as fire chief and resign the mayoralty. The mayor's salary was $100 monthly.

Flareups between the council and Brand occurred throughout 1974 and into 1975. The showdown came last Monday as the council voted to have the city administrator write a resignation letter and hand it to Brand to sign.

Brand wrote his own resignation Wednesday and gave it to city administrator Charles Corwin.

The council will probably accept the resignation at the next regular meeting. Glenn Brannen, city council chairman, will serve as mayor until the fall elections, according to Corwin.

At that time, the two council posts of Jack Corroch and Brannen will be up for election, besides the mayor's post. Corroch and Brannen have indicated strongly they will not run for re-election.

Plan aid endorsed

By SHANE O'NEILL

Times-News writer

BURLEY — A comprehensive plan 10 years ago might have cut Burley's accident rate, the city planning and zoning commission was told Wednesday night.

The statement was made by Ray Roberts, the city's recently employed community development coordinator, as he called for commission help in putting together a comprehensive plan for Burley.

An unconvinced commission agreed to help develop the plan, mandated for 1977 to identify and plan the geographical area of city impact for the next 20 years.

Roberts' comment on traffic accidents came in answer to a question by Commissioner Truman Bradley.

"Some of us have been in this (planning) 25 years," Bradley said. "If we had a comprehensive plan 10 years ago, what would we have done differently?"

Roberts said he did not know, but he added that some streets bear a heavier volume of traffic. Knowledge and planning "might have reduced ourselves from most hazardous in the state" to a level comparable with other cities.

"We've been trying to get a truck route here for five years," Bradley said. "The city gives the information to the state and that's the end of it."

"They want to know what's going to happen 20 years from now," added Chairman C. E. (Chuck) Skaggs. "They don't care what happens the first 19."

Parke Garrard, assistant administrator of the Idaho Traffic Safety Commission, had charged Tuesday that Burley has "by far the worst record in the state."

Cassia County reported 682 accidents last year, 446 of them in Burley. Garrard blamed downtown parking, particularly diagonal parking, and parking too close to intersections.

The state official said Burley would lose eight parking spaces at each intersection if it complied with the Idaho code of 30 feet from a parked vehicle to a crosswalk at a signal intersection and 20 feet from a non-signal intersection.

He said elimination of all diagonal parking would cut 74 parking spaces downtown. Roberts admitted Wednesday that growth projections for Burley widely differ.

He cited a figure of 13,000 population by 1990. Hearing doubts, he added that some experts placed population at 18,000 to 20,000 by 1994.

Showing the Burley area as drawn by Cassia County, Roberts pointed out one-and-a-half-mile buffer zone on the east and west with a two-mile buffer on the south.

Roberts said his task was to coordinate the planning of the city and county. Hired under federal funding, he said his position will go into the city budget next year.

He asked the commission's help and assured them he will keep them informed.

"We don't want it to be like Jerome," he said. "There the planning and zoning people don't know what the rest are doing."

Roberts said he wants strong public input into the comprehensive plan. He said that a "house to house, business to business" survey will begin next month with the help of two graduate students.

The state lists 12 elements for inclusion in the survey. Roberts asked commission members to come up with whatever questions they felt would help develop the plan.

Corn pack begins

BURLEY — Green Giant's 1975 corn pack was scheduled to start today and plant officials are hoping for "lots of sunshine" to ripen the remaining crop.

There were a few runs in the past week but the entire plant was to start operation at noon today, according to Joe Fehrenbacher, agricultural superintendent.

"We still have time to make it, with our new equipment, providing we get good weather," he said, commenting on concern that the late spring had delayed the early corn.

There has been concern that because of the extended cold early in the summer the first plantings would be delayed and not be ready for picking until the same time as the later plantings.

This is the first year Green Giant's Buhl plant has had automatic hickers. Additional cookers also were installed during the past year.

"We supposedly handle 100 tons of corn an hour," Fehrenbacher said, "and maybe even more, but that remains to be seen."

"The whole thing boils down to weather," he said.

Project nears finish

MURTAUGH — The first phase of Murtaugh's water development project is nearly complete, Murtaugh City councilmen were told Wednesday night.

Gary Marshall, of J-U-B Engineering firm, Twin Falls, said he is hopeful that the Staley Starch plant can be hooked up to the newly completed city by the end of the week.

The first phase of the development includes the well, pump house and 25,000-gallon storage tank, funded under a $75,000 grant from the Farmers Home Administration.

The second phase of the project, to be partially funded from a $191,000 water and sewer revenue bond issue approved by voters July 15, includes construction of a water distribution system for the town.

Murtaugh has never had a central water system. The rest of the cost will be provided through another FHA grant of $43,000 already approved.

Marshall told councilmen plans now are being drawn for the distribution system.

The Staley plant has used water from a well the company installed when it began operation here about a year ago. This well will be disconnected once the firm is hooked up to the city system.

Cycle wrecks mobile home

HAILEY — A Halley youth was injured Wednesday in a freak motorcycle-mobile home accident about a mile north of Halley.

Brett Gelsky, 15, Halley, was taken to Blaine County Memorial Hospital for treatment of a broken collarbone and cuts and bruises after he struck a car pulling a house trailer Wednesday afternoon.

Gerald Greeshing, Waupaca, Wis. and his wife, driver and passenger of the car pulling the trailer, were uninjured. Damage to the trailer they were pulling was estimated at over $13,000.

According to the Blaine County sheriff's report, Gelsky pulled out in front of the Greeshing vehicle at the Idaho Power substation, going south, without allowing a proper distance.

Greeshing honked and was passing the Gelsky boy who was riding a motorcycle. Gelsky made a left turn without signaling, striking the Greeshing car on the right door, the report said.

Gelsky was thrown from his motorcycle and the Greeshing trailer veered into a borrow pit and rolled. The hitch came undone however, keeping the car from overturning.

Gelsky was cited for reckless driving.

Women elected to 2nd term

JEROME — The top vote getter in the Northside Soil Conservation District's supervisor election Tuesday was Mary Rose.

Mrs. Rose, Jerome, was re-elected to a second term on the board by 37 votes.

Dean Weatherwax, Eden, was the second high vote getter with 110 votes to also be re-elected to the board.

John Ottman, Hazelton, was also re-elected with 89 votes.

The newly-elected member of the board is Herman Martens, Eden. He received 97 votes.

The two defeated candidates were Ray Kincaid, with 74 votes and Leonard Mills, 68 votes. Both are from Hazelton.

Martens will replace Carl Montgomery, Eden, who did not seek re-election.

Each board member will serve a four-year term on the Northside Soil Conservation District board of directors. The directors are responsible for coordinating all soil conservation work in the county. The work is on a volunteer basis.

According to Dave Mitchell, NSSCD conservationist, a total of 164 votes was cast in the election which was conducted at the Jerome County Fairgrounds in conjunction with the fair. This is the second time the election has been conducted in conjunction with the fair, Mitchell said.

Rodeo queen selection set tonight at Jerome

By CHARLOTTE BELL

Times-News writer

JEROME — A new Jerome County Fair and Rodeo queen will be crowned tonight during the final night of rodeo activities in Jerome.

Sherrie Muir, this year's queen, will present the crown and flowers to either Cindy Sheer, Jerome, or Robin Jewett, Gooding, the only two candidates in the contest.

Tonight will also see the choosing of the 1975 Jerome County junior princess. Five girls are competing for that title.

Zed Bell, Kimberly, rodeo announcer, said tonight's rodeo should provide a great lineup of top cowboys, including champion calf roper Dean Oliver from Montana, who is going to have to scramble to beat the time set by Jeff Copenhaver, Seaside, Ore., Wednesday night.

Copenhaver roped and tied his calf in a new record time of 8.6 seconds, moving Dave Brock, Pueblo, Colo., to second place with Tuesday night's fast time of 9.6 seconds.

In the bareback riding, Bruce Ford, Greeley, Colo., is in first place with 70 points, replacing four times world champion Joe Alexander, Cora, Wyo., who has second place with 69 points. Clyde Longfellow, Kendrick, was holding the reins in the saddle bronc riding with 65 points, but now shares the top position with Wes Hertzog, Craig, Colo., who rode his bronc for 65 points Wednesday night.

Close behind is Darrell Alfred, Ogden, Utah, with 64 points.

In the steer wrestling competition Lance Robinson, Farmington, Utah, bulldogged the lead in 4.9 seconds, and a Twin Falls cowboy, Bob Munroe, is in second place with 6.3 seconds, putting Tuesday night's leader, "Del Nosi," Montana, in third place.

Lynette Sanders, Ogden, Utah, now leads in the barrel racing with 16.1 seconds and Lana Brackenbury, Jerome, has tied with Tuesday night's winner Sandy Curcio with 16.3 seconds.

In the bull riding, Harold Haptonstall, Richland, Wash., is still in the lead with 68 points and Ray Lewis, California, still holds second place with 65 points.

Judging of fair exhibits has been completed and according to fair officials there were 1,000 more entries in the women's department than last year.

The Jerome County Fair officially closes Friday night with the awards assembly at 8 p.m. in the rodeo arena, which will be followed by a country and western dance at the fairgrounds, sponsored by the 4-H builder's club.

Award for booth

THIS BOOTH, in the Country Neighbors category, won the first booth award at the Jerome County Fair. Fair officials say they have about 1,000 more entries in the women's department than last year. Judging of fair exhibits is complete and the displays are open to the public. Tonight is the final night of rodeo activities.

EVERYTHING FOR THE HOME

223 2nd Ave. E. Twin Falls 733-1804

All forms of energy are now expensive.

Every home owner knows how much the cost of energy has risen over the last several years. Whether it's coal, electricity, oil or natural gas the cost of energy will, no doubt, continue to increase in price.

Natural gas is no exception.

Like the other energy forms, natural gas may continue to increase as well. Demand is high and costs of drilling deeper wells, labor and material and transportation have sharply increased.

But it's still your best home energy value.

Relative to other energy forms, natural gas will continue to cost less for residential use. Gas is an efficient energy for home use -- for heating, cooking, water heating and clothes drying. The unique heat producing properties are best employed in the home. It's used in its natural form and doesn't have to be generated from other fuels. It's still your best home energy value.

Fish-game budget chopped by another half million

BOISE—Two days after the Fish and Game Commission approved cuts of $600,000 in next year's budget, Fish and Game Director Joe Greenley told bureau chiefs to cut another half million dollars from this year's budget.

The cuts approved by the commission show up in the fiscal 1976-77 budget, but the additional $500,000 must be pared from the fiscal year that began July 1.

Bureau chiefs were given a week to crop their budgets, and the new cuts are expected to reflect the cutbacks already set for the coming year.

A. Kay Belpap, chief of the department's administration bureau, summarized the fiscal 1977 cuts as follows:

Fish raising across the state will be cut back 20 percent, and there will be less money for cooperative research with the University of Idaho. Aerial surveys of big game will decrease, since money for aircraft rental, has been trimmed.

Less money will be available for new construction, and there will be fewer temporary jobs such as bio-aides and summer work for students. Six jobs now open in the department will not be filled, and trimming is expected in operating expenses.

Some jobs within the department will be transferred from license funding to federal funding.

At its meeting last week in Boise, the Commission put a priority on fish research at Anderson Ranch and on the South Fork of the Boise River. These projects, costing $31,500, will be the first items reinstated if license sales pick up. The research project leader will not be cut from the fiscal 1976 budget, Belpap said.

Belpap said license sales figures for July were not as bleak as those for the first six months of this year.

By the end of June, license sales to residents were down 18 percent and down 24 percent for nonresidents, a decrease of 21 percent for all license and tags sales.

For July, total sales were down only nine percent, but Belpap said there would have to be three or four months of near normal sales figures before budget items could be reinstated.

The department will be considering a priority system for reinstating budget items in the event license sales continue upward during the next six months, but the six figures positions in the department will not be filled this year.

The department's budget cuts are necessary, Belpap said, because license sales this year have been below what was expected when budgets were put together last fall.

Revenue from the sale of licenses this year is above last year, he said, but still does not come close enough to revenue totals that were expected at budget sessions.

Seventy-four percent of the department's funding comes from the sales of hunting and fishing licenses, and the remainder is federal matching funds, Belpap said.

For the year ending June 30, he said, revenue was $4.9 million. Broken down into who pays the bill, the figures are 43 percent by resident hunters and 57 percent by nonresident hunters. Fishermen contribute 33 percent and nonresidents paying 47 percent.

Hunters were composed of 90 percent residents and 10 percent nonresidents. Fishermen were split evenly between resident and nonresident, Belpap said.

Twin Falls will scrimmage Saturday

The Twin Falls Bruins will conduct their first game-simulated scrimmage at 10 a.m. Saturday, reports head Coach Dennis Almquist.

Coach Almquist said he has been pleased with the work and enthusiasm of his troops thus far. A total of 58 currently is conducting two-day workouts.

The coach said the roster isn't complete yet since boys were still reporting following vacations or completion of work. He said picture day will be Friday.

A couple of noticeable differences from last year have shown up in the short evening drills conducted by the Bruins. Running backs Ron Iik and Mike Allison have been shifted with Allison going to fullback and Iik to outside spot.

In addition, the coach appears to have senior quarterback Jeff Debevoise throwing more.

Some Bruins also are tickled for double duty, something Coach Almquist didn't do last year.

The Bruins open against Jerome at Bruin Stadium Sept. 5.

Rule changes threaten NCAA solidarity

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI)

— Southeastern Conference Commissioner Boyd McWhorter Wednesday night lashed out at recent changes made by the NCAA and warned that unless remedies are soon forthcoming, many of the major college football schools will leave the national organization.

"I have deep concern about the condition of college athletics," McWhorter told a gathering of sportswriters and sportscasters who leave Thursday morning on a tour of the SEC football schools.

"It's coming at us all at one time," said McWhorter. "If we don't stand up we'll be in bad trouble."

"We have found ourselves in the position where we cannot enforce some of the rules, where some of the schools which do not have athletic programs want to pull the Alabama, the Oklahoma and the Nebraska down to their own level."

McWhorter said the 700 member schools of the NCAA "forgot principle to work with expedience. They threw college football out the window."

"It may take years to undo the damage which has been done," said McWhorter. "The problems have been caused by people who never walked on a football field. We're in difficult straits."

The SEC commissioner said that unless the problems are straightened out within the NCAA — "and we need a national body" — members interested in their own destiny will be forced to work outside the NCAA.

"We are on the threshold of a traumatic decision," he said. McWhorter said he, "speaking for myself," was most concerned about new NCAA rules which, starting next year, will limit football teams to 60 playing members and traveling squads to 48 players.

"It is bound to cause a terrible morale problem when you tell a group of boys that they have to be good enough to be in the top 60 among the players at their school to get into a game and in the top 48 to go with their team when it has a game out of town."

Sun Valley slates ski lift increases

By BART QUESNELL

Times-News writer
SUN VALLEY — Sun Valley Co. has raised its ski ticket rates in almost every category for the 1975-76 season.

Daily lift rates from Dec. 13 through the remainder of the season will be $11 — up $1 from last year. The full season lift pass good from Dec. 13 will be $450 with a total of $60 to be paid. This is a $50 increase over last year.

The Ketchikan-Sun Valley Chamber of Commerce rate for ski lift passes will be $70 per card and $6 daily. Last year the rate was $60 and $5 a day. The 30-day pass and the rate for Blaine-Grouse school students — have not been increased.

The Blaine County student rate, with the purchase of a $10 I. D. card, will be $3 a day. The 30-day non-consecutive pass will be $250.

The increases are to offset increased labor and material costs and to help finance the second phase of a snowmaking system begun last year, according to Sun Valley officials.

Wally Huffman, recreation vice president, said "Revenue realized from this season's rate increases will partially finance next season's expansion of intermediate terrain on the northern slopes of Baldy adjacent to the bowls and possibly allow for high capacity lift in the Seattle Ridge region."

The new increases are to generate about $175,000 to $200,000 more revenue from the 1974-75 season, an increase of 5 to 6 per cent, Huffman said.

Huffman said costs for skilled labor would be up 8 per cent this year and 6 per cent for non-skilled.

Sun Valley must generate cash, Huffman said, for three important projects scheduled in the next two years. Sun Valley wants to finish the mountain restaurant—add more intermediate terrain from Easter Bowl to Seattle Ridge and replace the old exhibition lift near River Run.

"Rate increases are always unfortunate," Huffman said, "but these projects require cash which we do not have."

Overall, Sun Valley Co. counted 334,000 skier days last season, a 7 per cent increase over the previous year. He said expenses were higher than anticipated on the mountain but Sun Valley did clear a profit although he would not say how much.

The snowmaking system which was partially installed last year has $600,000 invested in it, Huffman said. It will cost $1 million upon completion.

Sun Valley plans to make more intermediate skiing near the top of the mountain in the Seattle Ridge area, Huffman estimated that project would cost $500,000. In addition the replacement of the old Exhibition lift is estimated to cost $500,000, he said.

Huffman said the day rates and season rates do not generate the major share of Sun Valley Co.'s profits. He said inclusive tours, generally on a 7-day basis to tourists, is 66 per cent of Sun Valley's gross income.

Daily rates are 18 per cent of the gross while season rates are 10 per cent.

Skiers again this year will be able to get on the Warm Springs runs by Thanksgiving, Huffman said, due to the snowmaking machine. He said the system is fully operable this year and the noisy compressors at the bottom of Warm Springs—will not be there.

Berra may rejoin Yankees in coaching capacity next year

NEW YORK (UPI) — Yogi Berra said Wednesday there is a "50-50 chance" that he will be a coach next season for the New York Yankees — the team that fired him as manager in 1964 after he led them to an American League pennant.

"I have not received a concrete offer but I have had a feeler," Berra said. "I couldn't say yes or no on what I'll decide. I don't know."

Berra, fired two weeks ago as manager of the New York Mets, said Gabe Paul, general manager of the Yankees, called him with an informal offer — a "feeler."

"There's the whole rest of the season to go before I have to make up my mind," Berra said. "I would be premature for me to make a decision now."

Berra led the Yankees to an American League pennant in 1964 but was fired after losing to the St. Louis Cardinals in a seven-game World Series. He managed the Mets to the National League pennant in 1973 and lost to the Oakland A's in another seven-game Series.

Late hatch enhances waterfowl outlook

Despite a slow start, the North American waterfowl production for 1975 is expected to equal and probably surpass the crop of last year.

Ducks Unlimited of Canada, in its monthly report, said mallard broods have broken out in great number all over the Canadian duck factories.

This late hatch relieved a lot of fears since the early — and normal — hatching period came and went with little visible result.

The DU report said "This is certainly one of the latest nesting seasons in the record of these (mallard and pintail) species. The other nesters are somewhat late, but not that late."

"The reason? Perhaps exceptionally heavy losses to early nests due to a combination of agricultural activity and excessive nest predation. Or perhaps since last year was also late, we are looking at a population with many young birds just not ready to breed until late spring. If this is the case next year may be just as late or even later."

"In summary we have another good year on the prairies with production at least equal to last year and likely somewhat better; average production in British Columbia and, in the Maritimes, at least average and likely somewhat above. Excellent nesting conditions are also reported from the northern forest area and the Arctic."

$40,000 tourney not enough

DENVER (UPI) — Complaining the purses they play for are too little, the members of the Ladies Professional Golf Association came to Denver this weekend for the 4th annual $40,000 National Jewish Hospital Open.

"In a $40,000 tournament, at current expenses, 73 girls will lose money and less than 50 will win anything at all," said tour veteran Judy Kimball, the secretary of the LPGA executive board. "It costs you between $300 and $600 to play in the tournament, depending on how you travel."

NEW YORK (UPI) — Archie Clark of the Seattle SuperSonics scored 32 points to lead the Detroit-Cleveland region to a 121-115 victory over Chicago Louisville in the consolation game of the 21st Century Invitational Tournament.

Teams representing New York-New Jersey and Buffalo-Washington squared off for the championship in the second game of the doubleheader.

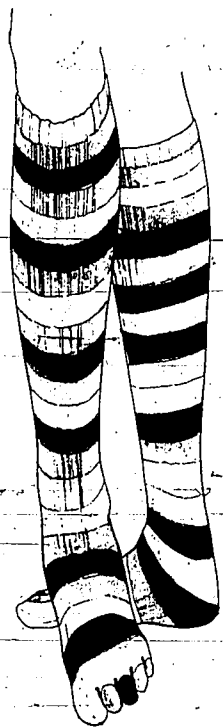

On Tuesday, Detroit-Cleveland lost to New York-New Jersey, 106-105. The two-day series of doubleheaders marked the first professional basketball promotion by the non-profit 21st Century Foundation to benefit Black students. The consolation game crowd of 10,000 com-

Financial status good at Burley

BURLEY — The city of Burley reportedly is in sound financial condition.

That was the report of LeMar Anderson of the C.P.A. firm of Nelson, Sagers, Anderson and King, Burley, despite the fact that Burley spent $63,758 more than it took in last year.

"Everything is in good order," Anderson told the City Council this week. "Any problems we had were strictly accounting" procedures and due to the changeover of city treasurers.

The firm was retained by the city last November to help new City Treasurer Dorothy Bonner to get the books up to date by the end of the year. Although Mrs. Bonner had "limited accounting theory," Anderson said, she had sound bookkeeping experience and was "quick to grasp" the suggestions of the C.P.A. firm. Anderson termed her "outstanding" and said she has "made great strides" with the accounting system of the treasurer's office.

Anderson recommended that the treasurer's office be given sufficient time to put all its records on Cassia County's intricate accounting machinery, even if that entailed adding personnel temporarily.

Actually the balance in the general fund dropped $181,762 in 1974, from $599,959 to $418,197. But most of this was an accounting procedure as $117,964 was transferred from a revenue sharing account to a separate trust and agency fund.

Councilman James Roper commented that he had thought the budget was balanced in 1974. He pointed out that appropriations were listed at $1,449,456 and revenue estimates listed at $1,674,491.

Anderson explained that the balance had been made from the unappropriated surplus from previous years and would not be counted as revenue in 1974. He added that the council could, in theory, have the entire $599,959 in the general fund as of Jan. 1, 1974, although it would not be good conservative management.

Roper remarked that the council had underestimated its revenue (by $59,638) and had appropriated $37,022 more than it expended. Yet the city still spent more than it received.

The actual revenue was $1,734,130, while expenditures were $1,797,927.

Burley has the problem of city area in both Cassia and Minidoka counties because of its annexation of North Burley. Roper said each county had made an error in figures in the past two years.

Roper blamed this for property taxes being overestimated. But he added, the city should not have been off $33,778 in property taxes.

"That ($33,000 estimate) was a forced figure," he said, arrived at after necessary appropriations had been figured.

Actual property tax revenue was $248,222 of the total tax and franchise fee revenues of $289,131.

License and permits fees were more than $7,000 over anticipation because building permits almost doubled to $14,227 in fees.

The city also missed on revenue sharing funds which, at $186,471, fell $41,319 short of expectations. "The highway users fund picked up over $20,000 of that slack and the city received $206,958 in federal grants for the airport, $15,865 more than estimated. This left total intergovernmental revenue only $15,991 under the estimate."

Administrative services income at $133,770, was $39,230 over anticipations. Streets sidewalks and curbs charges were $22,369 above the estimate, and golf fees ran more than $11,000 higher. These put service charges at $356,208, or $71,073 above the revenue estimate.

Police fines were down nearly $6,000 but the city sold fixed assets worth over $11,000 more than anticipated and within city service charges were $5,000 higher.

General fund expenses actually were slightly higher than the total of specific appropriations, but showed lower in the audit because of the council's failure to allocate portions of a $65,849 contingency fund where needed.

Anderson advised the council to allocate the contingency fund, even as late as December, to put it in the proper place during the fiscal year.

Besides that fund, the council appropriated $173,645 in the budget. The city spent $202,473—including capital outlays $22,827 higher than anticipated.

Salaries in enforcement and protection were a major item than ran higher than expected, $18,506 higher—for a total of $296,003. That made the total expenditure in that area $481,146, or $42,370 higher than appropriated.

In physical environment and transportation grounds maintenance ran $25,381 higher, but engineering was cut nearly in half to $19,765 and operating supplies were $15,782 less than the figure set to keep the total cost $56,967 less than anticipated. Actual cost was $1,797,928.

The cash fund slipped in 1974 from $119,196 at the beginning of the year to 76,610 at the end.

The library fund rose from $22,271 to $25,963, while the revenue sharing fund dropped from $117,964 to $66,427 due to the fund transfers in excess of 1974 funds received.

Total fixed assets of the city on Dec. 31, 1974 were $649 million.

Meat rejected

ORONO, Maine (UPI) — Vegetarians from around the world report that more and more young people are rejecting meat-dominated diets.

The progress reports from organized vegetarian groups attending the 3rd World Vegetarian Congress told of forming special youth organizations, of young people attracted to vegetarianism through the practice of yoga and of young people simply accepting the vegetarian diet even though they belong to no organized vegetarian society.

Drought slashes grain crop hope

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Drought in several major world farming areas has dimmed the early season optimism about building up global grain reserves by about 16 to 17 million tons over the coming year, the Agriculture Department said Tuesday.

In World Grain situation report department economists said hot, dry weather has shaved 27 million tons off production estimates for the United States, the Soviet Union and Western Europe. The previous summary was in mid-July.

The corn crop is a key part of the U.S. grains picture and if that crop comes in it could trigger further sales to the Soviet Union.

But total world production of all grains for the 1975-76 season is now estimated at about 958 million tons, down nearly 27 million tons from the July forecast and 42 million tons below initial pre-season predictions. This shortfall is one of the reasons that Russia turned to the United States for supplemental supplies.

The department economists also trimmed grain consumption estimates in some countries but even with those cuts experts said the loss of potential production "largely eliminates the possibility of any appreciable recovery of worldwide grain stocks."

Early forecasts had indicated 1975-76 production would total 16.7 million tons, down from 19.5 million tons in 1974 and early this year, cut per capita use of sugar to the lowest level since the sugar shortage years of World War II.

Department economists said in their price forecast that raw sugar, which fell from a red 64 cents a pound last November to about 16 cents in June, recovered to about 23 cents in mid-August.

But with the 1975 harvest approaching, prices may dip to between 17 to 22 cents a pound in the fall, experts predicted.

A Department sugar situation summary said the 1975-76 world harvest may be about 4 to 6 million tons above last season's 87.5 million ton crop, partly because of increased sugarbeet planting in the United States and Europe.

Economist Frederick Gray said consumer prices probably will follow the drop in raw sugar prices but retail changes lag about a month or so behind shifts in the raw market. High sugar prices also helped boost the cost of many processed foods and drinks.

The report noted that U.S. per capita sugar use, which hit a record 103 pounds in 1972, was down to 97 pounds last year and may fall to below 90 pounds this year.

In a motion filed with U.S. District Court in Boise, Washington Attorney General Slade Gorton asks the suit be dismissed on grounds the Boise court lacks jurisdiction. If the suit is not dismissed, the motion asks that it be transferred to a federal court in Washington state.

In a separate report Tuesday the department said the outlook for the corn belt in the United States had improved with rains in some of the region but continuing hot weather still left much of the area too dry.

The corn crop is a key part of the U.S. grains picture and if that crop comes in it could trigger further sales to the Soviet Union.

FORECAST FOR FRIDAY, AUG. 22, 1975

GENERAL TENDENCIES. It is advisable that you attend to personal tasks despite obstacles. Avoid putting yourself in a position in which delays occur. Whatever benefits arise are unexpected.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Buckle down to the work before you and handle it efficiently. Be ready to expect a new opportunity for getting ahead.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Don't expect much from friends who are busy with their affairs and have little time for you today. Think constructively.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Show more courtesy and thoughtfulness to higher-ups who are under a heavy strain now. Don't neglect any payments.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) New situations arise that should be studied with care so that you can get the most benefit. Be sensible.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Learning what higher-ups expect of you makes the going easier and you stay on the right track now. Be more cooperative.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Listen to views and complaints of associates and come to a better understanding. Sidestep one who opposes you.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Avoid a co-worker who is in a bad mood now. Take more time for rest so that you build your energies. Relax tonight.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Not a good day for the amusements you want to take part in. A sudden invitation should not be turned down at this time.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Make sure you choose your words well or you could start a rumormongering. Be more optimistic about the days ahead.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Much care should be exercised in motion today. Try not to get drawn into any arguments with anyone. Maintain your cool.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Exercise much care where monetary affairs are concerned as you could get into a financial bind. Try to avoid worrying.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Plan some time to improve both health and appearance at the same time. Take care of a troublesome situation at once.

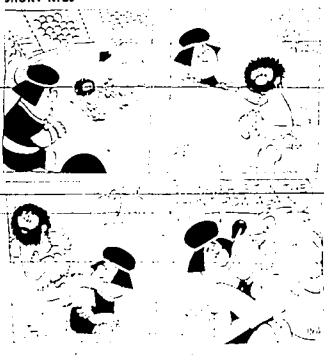

"IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will know what to do in difficult situations. Direct the education along trouble-shooting lines for best results throughout lifetime. A compassionate nature here. Give religious training in the home."

Credit that popular crooner of yesteryear Rudy Vallee, too, with another distinction: He was the first person ever to receive a singing telegram. In 1933, that was. Western Union cut out such vocalizing three years ago, you'll recall. But the gimmick lasted for 39 years.

ANOTHER SORT of business that's said to prosper during recessions is the security guard operation. Company managers beef up their house detective force when they think employees fear layoffs. That's when some of said employees start to take wholesale, they report.

GET IT RIGHT

Did I say George Washington, who died at midnight, Saturday, Dec. 14, 1799, took his last breath in the last hour of the last day of the week of the last month of the last year of that significant century? Wrong again! Last year of that century was not 1799, but 1800.

Q. "LOUIE, exactly what's imagination?"
A. A bee's stinger is only a fraction of an inch long, right? The other 12 inches is imagination.

WHAT SYMBOLIC image can you imagine to represent 200 years of American history for this Bicentennial? A client suggests a picture of a businessman with a briefcase riding a quarterhorse up a down escalator.

BRIDAL VEIL

It's said the long bridal veil was designed originally not to obscure the bride's face but rather her waistline.

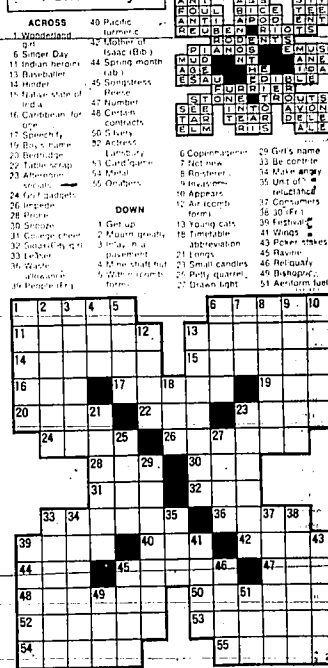

THE TELEPHONE BOOK in the pay booth at a cigar store just off New York City's Times Square gets ripped up so badly that it has to be replaced every 48 hours.

IN DESCENDING ORDER, these are what married couples argue about most: Money, work, flirting, in-laws, drinking, temperance, children and sex. Or so says a student of matters romantic.

A RECENT UNIVERSITY study concluded that half the grownups around here can't savvy what they read. Do you believe that? Neither do I. Please note, the study's contention was phrased a little differently. Namely: "An approximate 50 per cent of the post-juveniles analyzed exhibited indeterminate sub-capacity comprehension in timed sequence readings of disparate materials excerpted from common curriculum texts."

today's weather

Showers may interrupt haying

Twin Falls, Northside, Burley, Rupert: Chance of scattered showers or possible thunderstorms this evening and tonight. Lows near 50. Continuing chance of a few showers and cooler Friday. Highs near 70. The probability of measurable rainfall is 40 per cent tonight and Friday.

Halley, Camas Prairie, lower Wood River Valley: Chance of a few showers this evening and tonight, clearing trend Friday. Low tonight near 40. Highs Friday in the middle 60s. Probability of measurable rainfall, 30 per cent tonight.

Synopsis: Clouds and moisture were spreading up through Nevada early today and are responsible for the reappearance of possible showers in the forecast. Another surge of cool air from the northwest will bring cooling Friday and clearing by Friday night.

The extended outlook for the weekend is for mostly dry weather and below normal temperatures. Day-time highs will be 75 to 85 and night-time lows will be 45 to 55.

The threat of showers tonight and early Friday may interrupt hay baling and harvesting at times, but present indications are that the showers, if any, will be brief and light and the interruptions will be brief.

Awards assembly set for Jerome

JEROME — The 4-H and FFA awards assembly will signal the closing day of fair and rodeo activities in Jerome. At the awards assembly, which will be held at 8 p.m. Friday night in the rodeo arena, Jerome County 4-H and FFA members will receive trophies and ribbons for their accomplishments during the four days of fair activities.

Also scheduled for Friday night will be a country-western dance.

The Jerome Builders Club will sponsor the dance which will be held after the awards assembly on the backstop area behind the grandstands at the fairgrounds.

Jim Miller, president of the Builders Club, said the cost will be $1 for single persons and $1.75 for couples. The funds will be used to help sponsor 20 4-H members' travel to Washington, D.C., in June of 1976 for the Citizen School Course, a 4-H sponsored activity dealing with citizenship and patriotism.

Miller said, "Although the fair officially closes on Friday night a jamoree is scheduled for Saturday, with performances at 2 and 8 p.m. and will pit the Jerome County Jamoree team and the Wood River Riding Association in a scramble for top prizes.

Saturday afternoon's attractions include cow cutting, calf roping, ribbon pull, one-eighth-mile race, half-mile race and a walk-trot-lead-run event.

Also included is a quarter-mile race, turn-back-race, relay race, working stock horse race, saddle horse race and wild cow milking.

The program during the evening consists of seven barrel, figure eight, spud, baton, scurry, keyhole, cloverleaf, water, flag arena, rescue and trailer races.

Beef prices drop 14° during month

DENVER (UPI) — The American National Cattlemen's Association said Wednesday the average supermarket price of five cuts of beef dropped 14 cents in August.

ANCA President Gordon Van Vleck said, however, prices in coming months depend "on the weather and its effects on grass and grain supplies."

He said the average price dropped from $1.78 per pound in July to a current $1.64 for the cuts.

Van Vleck said August prices showed ground beef prices dropped an average five cents to 84 cents per pound, round steak was down five cents, sirloin dropped 23 cents, 1-bone fell 14 cents and chuck roast prices fell 15 cents.

"The August averages decreased from July in all but two of the 19 cities," he said. "Differences in average prices reflect differences in such factors as transportation costs, local wage rates and the amount of beef (price) speculating at the time of the survey."

Van Vleck said one of the reasons for the drop in price was an increased volume of beef production. He said, however, an increase in grain costs to farmers would result in a drop in production this winter. Van Vleck also said the supermarket prices of beef as yet had not been affected by the announcements of grain sales to Russia and said the amount of grain purchased did not represent a major portion of the total domestic supplies.

Gem harvest advances

BOISE (UPI) — Harvests took over as the main farming activity in Idaho the second week of August, the Idaho Crop and Livestock Reporting Service said Tuesday.

Harvests were in full swing in many areas of the state for winter wheat, barley, hay, bluegrass seed, processing sweet corn and green peas.

"Late season crops made good to excellent progress during the period as favorable weather persisted in those areas."

Idaho's potato crop made good to excellent progress in favorable weather. Approximately 20 per cent of the Idaho are turning color with little or no vine dying to date.

"A year ago, 40 per cent of the fields had started to turn by this date and 15 per cent had vines dying."

NOTICE OF PUBLIC MEETING: A public meeting will be held Thursday, August 28, at 7:30 P.M. in the auditorium of the Idaho Power Company's office at 133 3rd Street North, Twin Falls, Idaho, on the Company's proposal to build a 230,000 volt alternating current power line from the Hot Springs Substation in Jerome County to a substation in the Nevada State Line. The proposed line crosses both public and private lands. Citizens of Idaho and others interested in public lands are invited to appear and comment. Information on the proposed line and route will be presented at the meeting. The record of the meeting will be held open 30 days prior to the meeting date to permit written comments to become part of the record. Such comments may be directed to Idaho Power Company, P.O. Box 70, Boise, Idaho 83721, to the attention of Gale C. Forley, Manager, and of Right of Way Department.
